Please Note: I have transcribed this to the best of my ability. Sound bites of parties speaking simultaneously and those which were inaudible to me have been deleted from the transcript. If I guessed at a word, it was followed by a ()? A____ (blank line) indicates I could not understand the word or phrase and three periods ... indicate an interruption in the dialogue of one party by another. Thank you for your understanding. MK

You are going to need to find your brain if you're going to be strong, that is the motto of today. We are being played for fools, ladies and gentlemen; it is a sad day out there. Welcome to Yada Yah Radio. We are going to cover some news and then return to where we left off last week in Yachezq'el/Ezekiel. Today President Joe Biden (I hate saying "President" in front of the name of a man I find so utterly disgusting) was on a conference call with the Chinese President, Xi Jinping. His broken-record theme was singular, 'There will be serious consequences if Xi Jinping gives any material support to Russia.' Then Biden described the implications of the consequences if China supports Russia in any way, he said in quote, "To support their brutal attacks against Ukrainian cities and civilians." The United Nations posted today the number of civilians that have been killed in this war as 816.

Since the media, both the Progressives and Conservatives in America will tell you that this is "a terrible and most brutal war, uncalled for and the Ruskies are bad," let's go through the death tolls of the active wars that are currently being waged so that we can put the 816 civilians that have been killed in the Ukraine since the conflict began into focus. The deadliest war of the last 20 to 30 years, in two phases but the same place and the same belligerence, I would have thought it was Iraq followed by Afghanistan, but that's not the case, where 4.8 million people are dead compared to perhaps a few thousand.

Evidently, to the media, the Progressives, Black lives must not matter because it's the Congo war.

The Congo war is essentially Marxist-led militant groups that are plundering and raping their way through the population trying to destroy a minority group. There are 4.8 million people dead. Nobody is willing to say, 'We need to ban Marxism and Communism worldwide for having promoted a war that killed 4.8 million people.'

Most people don't even know where Congo is on a map.

Afghanistan, oh, that's the United States tragedy. We were the ones that caused the Russian fatalities in Afghanistan to the tune of almost a million Afghans. We thought it would be a swell idea to give Russia a taste of what it gave us in Viet Nam, and we rented the Taliban from Pakistan and armed them with Stinger Missiles so they could shoot down Russian aircraft. Does that remind you of anything happening today, particularly in the Ukraine where we are giving the Right-wing nut cases Stinger Missiles? Afghanistan, where 2.1 million fatalities can be tagged virtually on the United States. Do you hear anybody screaming, "We need to sanction the United States, boycott the United States? We need to give severe pain to the United States?"

We didn't have any reason to be part of killing those people, none.

It was completely unjustified.

India and Pakistan – the ongoing jihadist attacks on India and demand for even more territory, two million deaths. Is anyone trying to ban Pakistan for being the aggressor? No.

The Iraq war – The United States falls in number two and four positions here with 1.2 million people dead. We use “shock and awe” and killed 816 people per second. You talk about brutal what we did in Iraq and Afghanistan, particularly in Iraq, resulting in 1.2 million people dead. Is anyone calling for the sanctioning of the United States?

The war that precipitated the first and second Congo wars, which is still ongoing, is the Rwanda conflict, resulting in 800,000 deaths, mainly from the Tutsi authority. They have been attacked by armed militias, mostly the Hutu. In addition to the 800,000 dead, 500,000 women have been raped.

Most Americans or Europeans don’t even know what happened. How can the Progressives that control the media be so supportive of Black Lives Matter and not even mention either of these two conflicts? Between the two of them, there were 5.6 million people dead, and 500,000 women raped. The inspiration for the Rwanda genocide was the Roman Catholic Church. They told the majority that they should assert their influence over the minority.

The next one on the list is also the United States – Syria, with 600,000 dead and 2.5 million refugees. Somalia can also be tagged on the United States with 500,000 deaths. Is there anybody screaming, “Ban the United States?”

Next is Indonesia, which is part of OPEC. We can pin that on Muslims killing non-Muslims, yet with 500,000 dead do we call for bans on Indonesian oil?

Yemeni's 400,000 deaths can be pinned on the United States because US weapons and money are funneled to the thugs that run Saudi Arabia that have waged the bombing attack and the brutalization of the civilians there.

And then there’s the Islamic war between the Sunnis and the Shias—400,000 dead.

Is anybody calling to ban Saudi Arabian oil? Is anybody calling for the banning of the United States for supplying the weapons?

The next one is also Islamic, with 400,000 dead in Sudan. If you put all these last five Islamic conflicts together - Syria, Somalia, Indonesia, Yemen, Sudan - one million, two million, three million, plus Iraq, which was the United States’ fault, but another 1.2 million.

Another 2.1 million in Afghanistan and 2 million because of Pakistan. So, where is the outcry against Islam?

The next one is surprising now with 816 civilians killed in the Ukraine, the Progressive media that says that they are the ones that are not racist, don’t seem to care that south of our border, because of America’s liberal policies in drug habits, the Mexican drug war has cost the lives of 400,000 civilians. The Mexican drug wars have been 400 times deadlier than the Ukrainian conflict with Russia. Do you hear about anybody banning Russia or talking about America’s duplicity in this?

We have another Islamic factor. Next is Boko Haram, Nigeria, an Islamic group killed 160,000 people. Darfur, which is also blacks on blacks, but this is Muslims killing other Muslims, so this is Arab Muslims attacking African Muslims; 300,000. Anybody calling out Islam again?

In Columbia's drug wars, primarily because of America's appetite for drugs, 200,000 are dead. Miramar, 200,000 are dead. In the Moro Islamic uprising in the Philippines, there have been 150,000 deaths.

One of the most brutal conflicts is also in Africa, the Ethiopian civil war, with 100,000 dead.

The US has been pressing a war in Northwest Pakistan with Special Forces, and 79,000 people have been killed. The Turks have been insistent on killing Kurds and have killed 60,000. Are we trying to ban or sanction Turkey?

In Iran, which America is about ready to lift sanctions from and is about to say that it is not a terrorist nation, they have killed 58,000 Kurds. Where is the movement in academia to support the Kurds? They are a real ethnic group. They are not like the Fakestinians, which are a myth. Congo, 65,000 dead.

Recently, there's been a terrible war between Armenia and Azerbaijan in which 49,000 people were killed. I don't think it ever made it to a major publication, and there was no outcry.

The Khyber Islamics in Pakistan have killed 45,000.

Libya was another "shock and awe" of America. We just bombed it back into the stone age and killed 43,000 people. In the Maghreb region in Northern Africa, another Islamic conflict, 29,000 people dead.

The Ukraine doesn't rank up there in the top 25 current conflicts globally, yet it's the only thing this administration will talk about galvanizing the world such that it pummels Russia.

I did a quick study since we want to present the Russians as bad and the Ukrainians as good throughout the media and politics.

There's not a tinker's dam worth of difference between the Ukrainians and Russians in their DNA. Here's a study that was done:

'In order to investigate the origin of the Eastern Slavs, mitochondrial DNA (mtDNA) sequence variation was examined in Russians and Ukrainians by hypervariable segment I (HVS I) sequencing and restriction analysis of the haplogroup-specific sites. No significant differences were found...' They aren't different people, so stop this with Ukrainians vs. Russians. Ethnically they are the same people. Even in their language, over 60%, some say 66% of Russians and Ukrainians share the same vocabulary and grammar; they are both Slavic languages and are exceedingly similar.

That is not the worst problem, however, in the Ukraine.

The single worst problem associated with all this is that the United States is responsible for provoking this war and is now trying to rally the world to attack the country that it provoked. We caused the war in two ways. One is that we are the country that inspired and armed the riots during the Obama Administration in 2013. The stated purpose, according to cables sent from our State Department, was to overthrow the popularly elected democratic pro-Russian government of the Ukraine and replace it with a government that was pro-United States and the West that we could convert into NATO.

That was our stated purpose, and we did it.

What we don't want to tell people, however, is that the people we did it with were not freedom lovers, not by a million miles; they were Fascists. We armed the Fascists. We have created, watered, and cultivated a seed (most would call neo-Nazis) that was already exceedingly prevalent in the Ukraine. They wear swastikas, have SS insignias and swear by the Third Reich. But they're not neo-Nazis. They predated the Nazis. The largest group that merged out of the revolt that led to the downthrow of the popularly elected government is the Azov Terrorist Organization which has been recruiting and radicalizing even American citizens. Something in the range of 75,000 recruited militia fighters in the Ukraine is neo-Nazi. Their number one support for their recruiting efforts is from the United States and Facebook. Facebook is a massive supporter of this Fascist group and has even said that 'The group shall not be harassed or banned on the Facebook platform.' They want them to continue to recruit. Neo-Nazi is the term we use today to describe them. Still, again, Fascists and anti-Semitic and ultra-nationalist groups like this preceded the Fascists in Germany by several hundred years in the Ukraine. The State Department even sought to designate the Azov Terrorist Organization. It was presented to the Defense Department as we were supplying arms, and the Defense Department said, 'We really ought not to be doing this.' The White House overrode it.

If you look at the insignias of the militia that are fighting, when Putin blamed the genocide perpetrated against the Russian people in the far eastern part of the country, particularly in the Donbas region, those militias are all Fascists. You don't have the Ukrainian military fighting them. No. Those that are wearing military uniforms are flying the flags of Nazis. That's who is killing them. Because of the rise of anti-Semitic, warmongering Fascists, the situation in the Ukraine is far worse today than the problem was in Germany in the late 1920s when the Brownshirts took over that country and then were ultimately ground into the ground as Hitler turned the Brownshirts into his military, the SS and the like. It's worse to have a higher percentage, and they are far more armed (with American weapons), far more currently integrated into the government, and have government-sponsored militias. It's a far worse situation related to the rise of Fascists and Fascist militias in the Ukraine than existed in the late 1920s in what became Nazi Germany.

KIRK: What is wrong with us?

YADA: What in the hell is wrong with us? They play us for fools. You have to say, 'What is it with the ultra-Progressives? Now I understand they ignore the facts, facts they don't want. We recognize their instinct is to ignore reality and create a new one. This notion that we have an authoritarian government on one side and a freely elected democratic government and freedom lovers on one side, and freedom haters on the other: It's all a lie. And, of course, it was Russia's concern that NATO was growing in influence, that the Ukraine was on the cusp of becoming part of NATO. Two days before the invasion, Kamala Harris stated publicly in a press conference how pleased she was to encourage the incorporation of the Ukraine into NATO. We are sending millions of dollars' worth of our most sophisticated weapons into the Ukraine with the full acknowledgment, saying we are doing it, just as we armed the Mujahideen and the Taliban in Afghanistan. It is the most insane thing I've ever seen.

Amid all this, something else is happening that we need to discuss. We are now incorporating China into our enemy and badgering them. With the Iran deal, this administration is about to approve what would be easily the worst negotiation since Neville Chamberlain achieved "Peace in our Time" with the Nazis. The International Atomic Agency cannot investigate any of Iran's military or nuclear sites, so they are flying completely blind. The new negotiation does not require Iran to give up any of its highly enriched uranium. It does not require Iran to do anything related to its international intercontinental missile program. They now have a whole fleet of missiles capable of delivering atomic warheads to the United States. It removes the international terrorist designation from their Islamic anti-Israel club; certainly, they have Hezbollah and the Iranian Guards freely giving them all the money kept by the world, which will fund terrorism and promote the destruction of Israel. And since the United States could not sit down at the negotiating table, even though this is Biden's deal, the Iranians would not even sit at a table, even enter a room if there was an American there; guess who has negotiating room on behalf of America? Russia.

So part of the deal that is about to be signed is that Russia will be paid ten billion dollars to build a nuclear plant with Iran. We are so stupid and way beyond the holy grail of insanity. It is genuinely astounding the position we put ourselves in.

And I think it's swell that what you are going to do is give the most sophisticated weapons we have to neo-Nazi militias to use against the Russians when the Russians have the largest arsenal of nuclear bombs in the world. And that's what diplomats do in their spare time. If we make it impossible, which the Biden administration's policy is we want to give them so many weapons, that we kill so many Russians that the Russians can't take over Kiev and Odessa, if Putin is the way that the West has described as the reincarnation of Satan, and knowing he has more nuclear bombs than anybody else, if we make it such that he is about to lose his grip on power because of the Americans and Europeans killing so many Russians with their weapons, do you think he's going say, 'Oh well, you guys beat me. I think I'll just go off and hide in my Black Sea villa?' He has nothing to lose and will take revenge. If he is any way close to what he is depicted, and we do what we say we are doing, that's the way this game is going to play out.

That's why it is stunningly stupid.

Speaking of stupid, one of these days, I will be run off Facebook and other sites again.

Facebook banned me when I had a program where maybe one percent of that program mentioned a national media report. It was about the recovery of Hunter Biden's computer, the discovery of reports of him being up to his eyeballs in corruption and dealings with the Ukrainians, and that the family was profiting because of his father's position as vice president of the United States. Facebook banned it, pulled the show, and said, 'This is your first warning. Another strike, and you are out forever.'

It turns out that Facebook came up with a policy of trying to suppress all information related to Hunter Biden.

They defended that by saying it was a Russian plot and, therefore, disinformation. Well, guess what. It turns out that it wasn't a Russian plot or disinformation. Facebook has since said, 'Oh, we're so sorry. We probably shouldn't have done that.' It is now reported that fourteen percent of the people that voted for the Idiot in Chief would not have voted for him had they known the extent and content of Hunter Biden's involvement with the Ukraine, the country that we're willing to go to World War III over.

Russia announced its term for ending the war. The Ukraine doesn't become part of NATO. The Ukraine is demilitarized. The Ukraine is de-Nazified, which is probably the single biggest problem. The people who the neo-Nazi groups so bludgeoned in eastern Ukraine and Crimea can stay as part of Russia if they choose to. I think those are pretty much his conditions. We are not advocating for Putin. I think that would be a foolish thing to do. I'm just saying that the lack of truth here and the lack of reason is beyond anything I've ever seen. My concern is that we have moved into the world of make-believe, where we are playing a video-kind-of game in the land of make-believe, not recognizing that there are real weapons involved, and there's no rebooting of this game, and there is no coming back from it.

I was supposed to announce the group that is marketed today, so I think the shout-out now is to Boston, MA. For those of you who are from Boston, welcome to the program. We're going to talk about what Yahowah, God's one and only name, said to His prophet Yachezq'el / God Grows / Ezekiel some 2,600 years ago. It's tough medicine, but it is the same prescription every prophet conveys.

“Disaster upon disaster (howah 'al howah – calamity upon calamity, misfortune and disaster) will come (bow'), and rumor upon rumor, hearsay and conspiracy (shamuw'ah 'el shamuw'ah – unverifiable opinions and false testimony, fake news, lifeless and stupefying messages, horrifying reports which are unsubstantiated; from shamem – that which astonishes and destroys, bewilders and stupefies), will come to exist (hayah).

And they will seek (wa baqas – they will yearn and search for) a revelation (chazown – an inspired communication) from a prophet (min naby') while (wa) the Towrah (Towrah – the Teaching and Instruction, Guidance and Direction) is lost on ('abad min – is squandered on) the ministers, priests, and clerics (kohen), and on (wa min) the counsel and advice of the society's leaders ('etsah zaqen – the purpose and retelling of the most prominent individuals).” (Yachezq'el / God Grows / Ezekiel 7:26)

They want a prophet, and they are going to have one – it's called a false prophet. So they claim, of course, their rabbis, the ones they venerate so much, all claim to be prophets. They didn't get any prophecy correct mind you, but nonetheless they all want to be known as prophets. The reality is that we don't need any more prophets. In fact, Yahowah is not going to give us anymore prophets. His last witness is simply a messenger, someone who is conveying the message that He has already ... on our behalf through His prophets. But here it's saying they are looking for a prophet (and they have plenty), they just don't like what they have to say. And yet they are ignoring the Towrah. That's tough for Jews to take because the Haredim will claim that they are Towrah observant, but the Torah they observe isn't the Towrah at all, they simply renamed their Talmud “Torah.” Does this sound like the introduction to this program?

“Disaster upon disaster (howah ‘al howah – calamity upon calamity, misfortune and disaster) will come (bow’), and rumor upon rumor, hearsay and conspiracy (shamuw’ah ‘el shamuw’ah – unverifiable opinions and false testimony, fake news, lifeless and stupefying messages, horrifying reports which are unsubstantiated; from shamem – that which astonishes and destroys, bewilders and stupefies), will come to exist (hayah).

And they will seek (wa baqas – they will yearn and search for) a revelation (chazown – an inspired communication) from a prophet (min naby’) while (wa) the Towrah (Towrah – the Teaching and Instruction, Guidance and Direction) is lost on (‘abad min – is squandered on) the ministers, priests, and clerics (kohen), and on (wa min) the counsel and advice of the society’s leaders (‘etsah zaqen – the purpose and retelling of the most prominent individuals).” (Yachezq’el / God Grows / Ezekiel 7:26)

Do you hear anybody out there saying, ‘Yeah, the answer is probably in the Towrah? Let’s see what the Towrah, Prophets and Psalms have to say about this event?’ If you are Yahowah and you wanted to pick the perfect place for man to start World War III, because time is running short and you’re just sick of the whole thing, it would be hard to do better than the Ukraine because it’s the birthplace of the most viral and disgusting form of Judaism in the history of the religion. The Haredim all come from Baal Shem Tov in the Ukraine. That’s why there were millions of Ukrainians prior to the last World War and only about 50,000 remain out of several million. The worst of the pogroms, about 80% of them worldwide took place in the Ukraine. The most vicious of them took place in the Ukraine, and for the longest period of time going back 400 – 500 years taking place in the Ukraine. So now you have the people who had been the most belligerent to His people and the people who currently are the most identified with neo-Nazis and you also have the birthplace of the religion that you despise. It’s pretty hard to find a better place.

Did you check any of these words, were they among the ones that you analyzed, Kirk?

PLEASE BE ADVISED I DO NOT HAVE ACCESS TO KIRK’S NOTES OR PRESENTATIONS; THEREFORE I CANNOT GUARANTEE THE ACCURACY OF THIS PART OF THE TRANSCRIPT. THANK YOU FOR YOUR UNDERSTANDING.

KIRK: Disaster and disasters is the word howah, and it means, “ruin, disaster” in the context of believe it or not a wicked event. It’s “perverse, mischief, natural disasters not wicked nor are they perverse,” but manmade or induced disasters can certainly be. If you look at the letters, you have a hey wah hey which could easily be interpreted as man increases man or man increases their egos. I looked took all the key words and studied the letters. All the words have meanings as well especially in the pictographs and they tell me what Yah is trying to say through those, and I use them as a double check.

So rumors upon rumors, that’s shamuw’ah and that is “a rumor, messages, news.” It’s from shama’ – to hear and (shamah)? “To be desolate, appalling and horrifying announcements, and not necessarily truthful.”

YADA: It sounds like today’s newspaper.

KIRK: I feel physically awful as you read all those things.

YADA: It's pretty amazing that back in 1945, America liberated many from the concentration camps, where some 6 million Jews had been killed, from the Fascists and we did so with the help of Russia. And now the United States is fighting Russia while arming and abetting the most aggressive Fascists in the world. We've come a long way since the mid-1940s, haven't we?

KIRK: Yes. These words are really revealing if you want to dig in a little deeper. The rumors, the words have a negative connotation; I don't know anything about a rumor that would be positive. The shem can be a sharp, pressing language, the mem can be overwhelming and chaotic, become as powerful water, the wah in the word means to add, perhaps the addition of the (yim)? which would be man's perspective to confuse the man observing, and rumors are never positive. So you're safe on that one.

YADA: You have biting teeth, which represent Gentiles, so the biting teeth of Gentiles establishing themselves with the tent peg from their perspective. Boy that would be haunting today as they stand up and reach up and the man standing there is raising his hands and arms. So this is not good from that perspective, is it?

KIRK: No sir. I put a little side note on the root. Shem mem words and I did a study last night on all the words that begin or have a shem mem in them are vastly extremely negative. Examples would be (shamad)? which means "destroy." Interestingly because we know who is going to destroy, when you look at the shem it's the language or words with the help of the Set-Apart Spirit symbolized here with the life-cleansing water symbol of the mem followed by dalet which is most identified with the Pesach doorway to life, and of course, Dowd who destroys religion upon his return on Kipurym. I don't think that's a stretch. It's not necessary to present the story, but it's just curious to me.

Then what you just read, "you will seek a revelation/ chazown / which is a vision, the ability to see beyond the physical and the physical presence of light that pierces through the darkness. Symbolically the path is cut, that's the ___ through the barrier which is the chet. To increase, that's the wah, the ___.

YADA: What's interesting too is that this revelation they are seeking is from a prophet. The majority of the time that Yahowah uses the term "prophet" He's not speaking of someone who is speaking for Him because He doesn't even need to because people like Mosheh, Dowd, Ya'aqob and Yachezq'el are obviously prophets because they tell us what happened in the distant past and what will happen in the distant future, writing it all down so that we can verify that they were indeed inspired by someone who exists outside the constraints of time. God is constantly speaking of false prophets. There were the 850 prophets of Baal and Asherah that 'Elyah confronted. This is a false prophet here. That's what they are seeking, a false prophet. It's very common. While there were 40 good naby, the majority of them are rotten to the core and exemplify what is wrong with religion. Kohen is the same thing. Yahowah established the Lowy to be His kohen / priests and they were specifically assigned the responsibility of educating the Family on the merits of the Towrah and helping them understand the functionality and benefits of the Mow'ed Miqra'ey. They had very comprehensive instructions on how they were to do that and live within the society. The majority of times that He mentions kohen is to besmirch and indict religious leaders. In fact, Yachezq'el, like Mal'aky, Zakaryah, Yasha'yah, Yirma'yah, Howsha', they are all the same. The dominant theme is Yahowah's unrelenting attack against Judaism and all its various forms and flavors.

Occasionally you'll see the name of Clifford, a Rabbinical Apologist, on the site. He's one of these who says, 'You're not attacking Judaism because, when the Towrah was written, Judaism didn't exist.' That's double wrong. One of the things that religious Jews don't recognize is that the Towrah and Prophets are one integrated message. There is Towrah / teaching and guidance, instructions and directions throughout the Prophets, and prophecy throughout the Towrah. They are integrated, the same inspiration (They write the name of Yahowah out, so they probably don't know that), the Towrah is the same voice that speaks through the Prophets; the teaching and instructions are the same.

Second is that Jewish religiosity was on full display during the Exodus – they created the golden calf. Even 'Aharown was part of the inspiration for it. Yahowah dealt with the religiosity of His people – He had them killed. Because of their religious rebellion they had to wander in the wilderness for 40 years, that generation had to pass; only two of them out of the entire group were allowed into the Promised Land because of God's disdain. Jews being religious is one of the most egregious acts in the Towrah. In fact, the Flood, if you read the definition of the people that Yahowah wanted to eliminate, they were being religious, political and militaristic. So God's animosity to the Jews being religious goes all the way back to the early accounts of the Towrah. It happens to be the problem He had with Babylon. It's why 'Abraham had to leave Babylon which is the birthplace of institutionalized religion and the integration of religion, politics and militarism; he had to leave those places before he could go on. It shows a complete ignorance for the prophets because the overwriting and foremost theme of the prophet Yasha'yah, the first fourteen chapters are all the single theme of God saying, 'I hate it when My people are religious.' He's condemning Judaism. His condemnations in Yasha'yah, Yirma'yah, Howsha', Yachezq'el, are all directed not only to their behavior at that moment that the prophet was speaking, but he extrapolates all of it to His return on the Last Day and saying it's even more disgusting then. From God's perspective the single most debilitating thing that has ever happened to His people is Judaism. It's overwhelming, ubiquitous, undeniable, and the number one theme written throughout the prophets.

So here God is saying we are reaching a period where nothing but,

“Disaster upon disaster (howah 'al howah – calamity upon calamity, misfortune and disaster) will come (bow'), and rumor upon rumor, hearsay and conspiracy (shamuw'ah 'el shamuw'ah – unverifiable opinions and false testimony, fake news, lifeless and stupefying messages, horrifying reports which are unsubstantiated; from shamem – that which astonishes and destroys, bewilders and stupefies), will come to exist (hayah).

And they will seek (wa baqas – they will yearn and search for) a revelation (chazown – an inspired communication) from a prophet (min naby') while (wa) the Towrah (Towrah – the Teaching and Instruction, Guidance and Direction) is lost on ('abad min – is squandered on) the ministers, priests, and clerics (kohen), and on (wa min) the counsel and advice of the society's leaders ('etsah zaqen – the purpose and retelling of the most prominent individuals).” (Yachezq'el / God Grows / Ezekiel 7:26)

That is why they are in this pickle.

The consequence of religion and human governance is “disaster upon disaster.” And for both, it is a steady stream of unfounded opinions – none of which are verifiable.

I guess the only real benefit of the rumors, innuendos, conspiracies, and false reports surrounding the Ukraine is that it’s masking the consequence of the horrific approach to corona where our government and governments around the world all did the wrong thing almost all of the time and perpetrated a colossal calamity on humankind. That was followed by completely devastating the world’s currencies and economies. Then in the midst of all that you have the myth of man-made climate change requiring great redistribution of wealth and destruction of man’s productivity. Then on top of that you have the onslaught of Cancel Culture, Wokeism, and Progressives that have gone so far beyond political correctness. Political correctness is lies are promoted as the truth and the truth is condemned. But it is so far beyond that where it is now to it simply doesn’t matter. Evidence and reason are of no consequence. The most liberating country in the history of humankind, and you know I’m not a patriot, Kirk. I’m more disgusted by my country than I am pleased by it, but as it relates to Black Lives Matter and Progressives where they want to present America as inherently racist and that we must have reparations, etc. because minorities have been discriminated against.

Because of Yahowah’s Towrah and Prophets, I’ve done a lot of studying of human civilizations to find out why was God so against human government and institutionalized religion? I learned that there is not an example anywhere in the world to find a single civilization that didn’t have a caste system and oppress their own people whose economy was not driven by slave labor and who belligerently attacked their neighbors, robbing them of their children, crops and monies; they were all vicious. It doesn’t matter which civilization we’re talking about, the Romans, Carthaginians, the Trojans, Spartans, etc.

I was studying something that just made me sick as I was completing An Introduction to God about what I thought was a return to Jezebellian influence. I had to look up Jezebel because I wanted to make sure I wrote her name correctly and what it was about her. She came from Phoenicia and brought with her Ba’al | the Lord ‘el | God and Asherah’ cults. So the name of the god was the Lord God. She brought that with her into Israel. Their most dominant religious practice to appease their god was to sacrifice babies by making the babies wear masks with smiling faces as they draped them on the arms of the Lord God. They then built fires underneath the babies and roasted them alive. That was the religion that this woman brought into Israel. You think God isn’t disgusted by His people?

This revelation is very much like Yahowah. It’s decided, ‘I think I’ll read some snippets from the media circa 2022 and share that via the prophet so that when they read it, they will know that I inspired this message.’ We are entering the era of fake news. I cringe when I use that because the Truthers, the conspiracy nuts out there and the right-wing fanatics love to talk about fake news, and most of what they call “fake news” isn’t fake at all, it just doesn’t jive with their agenda. The fact of the matter is that the news media is now more apt to deceive than to tell the truth. I’ve never seen it as bad as it was during corona where the news media became exceedingly counterproductive. That was followed by what they did in the most recent presidential elections here in the United States where they not only set an agenda but decided what could and could not be communicated and formed an alliance with technology companies to ensure their control of the news, and then that's followed now by this fiasco where the United States, playing the Cuban Missile Crisis again, decided to be belligerent and militaristic as opposed to being diplomatic.

Hearsay and gossip stupefy the masses who are now prone to believe the most absurd conspiratorial claims. Unable to think, lacking integrity, unable to accept responsibility, the people infecting this planet are destroying it. It is about to get very, very dark before the arrival of the Light.

The world seeks a prophet at a time that men and women would be best served to consider the foremost of them: Moseh and the Towrah. God has revealed what is going to occur and why it will happen, but His testimony is squandered by the religious and tossed aside by the political. Rabbis voice their concerns, not God's. Not one in a million Jews knows what awaits them, even though Yachezq'el's dire warning has been available to them for 2,600 years.

By telling us that people will seek to be inspired by a prophet, Yahowah is revealing that the planet is ripe for the Man of Iniquity, perhaps even providing the basis of the claims made on behalf of the false prophet of Revelation 16. Looking for redemption in all of the wrong places, those who have been led to believe that evidence no longer matters and that conspiracies are true will believe the most outlandish of lies. There isn't a decent human being in the cadre of world leaders, not one who can be trusted. And yet, this chorus of the conceited and comatose is meaningless muttering compared to what is to come.

Speaking of the "kohen – ministers and priests and, thus, rabbis and pastors" of the "'etsah – advice and counsel" of "zaqen – society's most prominent individuals," as well as of the "mishpat – judgment" of the "melek – heads of state" and of the "ga'own 'az – arrogant and empowered," God said...

"The heads of state (ha melek – the government leaders) will respond emotionally and out of context, lamenting the sad state of affairs ('abal – will react rather than think, consistently oblivious to the negative influences at play (hitpael imperfect – continually oblivious to what is actually influencing the world around them)).

And these leaders who govern (nasyi' – the world's ruling elite, the most exalted individuals and those who represent them) are cloaked in anxiety and ruin, adorned in death and destruction (labash shemmah – are causing astonishing devastation and desolation as the planet is depopulated and becomes uninhabitable).

Even the influence and hands of the people (wa yady 'am) of the Land and possibly the entire Earth (ha 'erets) are paralyzed with bewilderment and dismay (bahal – are terrorized and terrified, intimidated and despondent).

Based upon their way (min derek hem), I will do with them ('asah 'eth hem). And according to their judgment and justifications, their decisions (wa ba mishpat hem), I will judge them, deciding their fate (shaphat hem).

So then as a result (wa ky), they will recognize and acknowledge (yada' – they will know and understand) that, indeed (ky), I am ('any) Yahowah (Yahowah – the proper pronunciation of YaHoWaH, our 'elowah – God as directed in His ToWRaH – teaching regarding His HaYaH – existence and our ShaLoWM – restoration).” (Yachezq'el / God Grows / Ezekiel 7:27)

That sounds wonderful ‘they will recognize that I am Yahowah,’ but it’s not. They are going to know Who is killing them, humiliating them as they are being humiliated because right now there isn’t a single religious or political Jew that will even say Yahowah’s name. But they are going to know it in the end, I’ll guarantee you that.

And these leaders who govern (nasyi' – the world’s ruling elite, the most exalted individuals and those who represent them) are cloaked in anxiety and ruin, adorned in death and destruction (labash shemmah – are causing astonishing devastation and desolation as the planet is depopulated and becomes uninhabitable).

Even the influence and hands of the people (wa yady 'am) of the Land and possibly the entire Earth (ha 'erets) are paralyzed with bewilderment and dismay (bahal – are terrorized and terrified, intimidated and despondent).

Boy, does that ever happen now, not only with the events of today in Russia and the Ukraine and the United States being the cheerleader for all this, but also coming out of the myth of corona. And the myth between those two there, of course, was the world conference on climate change. It’s the Big Three of being paralyzed with bewilderment.

Based upon their way (min derek hem), I will do with them ('asah 'eth hem).

God is fair. You want to be opposed to me, I’ll put you in a place where you are opposed to me; I’m going to put you all together. You can have each other.

And according to their judgment and justifications, their decisions (wa ba mishpat hem), I will judge them, deciding their fate (shaphat hem).

‘Hold your damn Tora/Talmud up right here, and I’m going to judge you based on that. I’m going to judge you by that ridiculous religious outfit that you are wearing. I’m going to judge you by the way you treat women, Fair enough? I’m going to judge you by the way you treat Me.?’ God is saying. God is fair. It’s not going to be a fair day for the religious, but God is going to be fair and will give them what they dished out.

This is precisely what we are witnessing. As a consequence of academic indoctrination by the most liberal and the conspiracies and politics of the most conservative, no one is thinking – especially in context.

My biggest problem today and has been that way for the last ten years is the failure to consider things in context. For example, the climate is changing, but if you put it in context of the history of our earth that we can look at in terms of global warming and cooling times, it’s exactly what we expect. It’s nothing out of the ordinary in terms of the history of our planet. If you put it in context, you would realize that man’s contribution to this current warming period is ... It’s not to say that the warming period isn’t significant, it is, but man’s contribution to it is negligible. And even beyond that, let's pretend for a moment that man's contribution was the driving factor, that it was 5% vs 95%. Let's pretend it was the other way around. Even if humankind stopped doing everything productive, if we didn't make electricity, drill and refine fuels, didn't develop any more drugs or build any more hospitals, build any more roads, didn't invent and distribute fertilizers to grow more crops or come up with better means of harvesting them, if we just stopped and didn't do anything anymore, it wouldn't change it even one percent. If we could shut down everything and redistribute 100% of the world's wealth it wouldn't change anything. There's no context. So yes, you can say temperatures are on the rise, there's some consequence to that. But even then, if you look at the history, there have been five or six of these cycles during full cycles, so twelve cycles between highs and lows, over the period of recorded history because these cycles typically last 300-600 years. Without fail, the warming periods are best for humanity and the cooling periods are the worst for humanity. So you have to look at things in context; if you take them out of context you have nothing. I kept trying to put the Ukraine and Russia in context, which was the Cuban Missile Crisis being played out again and us not responding intelligently as Kennedy and Khrushchev did, backing the world away from war as opposed to aggravating war. Context. The context of why is this government empowered vs the governments that existed in 2012 – 2013; what's the history of that? How does this war that everyone is screaming about fit within the context of wars and death on the planet as a whole? Context: that's why we had that discussion.

When we were talking about the corona virus and I said the first month that it was beginning to be noticed here in America, 'When it's all said and done, you are going to find out that we will have understated the number that has contracted the virus because 80% of the people are asymptomatic, they are never going to be tested, and when this virus has finally mutated to become less deadly but more contagious, there will be a time where virtually no one is tested. So a lot more people will have it than will be reported to have it. We are taking comorbidities and are ascribing them all to COVID so that we found that 96% of the people that are categorized as a COVID death have three or more comorbidities that would have killed them even if they did not have the corona virus. So we overstated the death toll by about almost fifteen times. We understand there are people that contracted the corona virus by about fifteen times. When the numbers all shake out, we're going to find that the corona virus, while bad and likely a designed virus that got out by accident, the death toll is about the same as a bad year of the flu, about one in a thousand.' To completely deprive people of their freedoms and livelihoods over that is to fail to see things in context. When you say the science says we need to have lock downs, and you don't put that in context, and we have a lock down, how many more women are going to be savagely beaten, how many more deaths are we going to have from alcoholism, suicide and drug abuse? What's going to be the overall cost to our society for having destroyed our currency and economy and for paying people not to work so that they don't want to go back to work when it's all over? What's going to be the consequence to our character when we willingly give up our freedoms without a fight? So context is what we lack today.

That's why someone like Cliff, who is the apologist for Rabbinic Judaism they are writing about here, lacks context. He can't see the history of the development of the religion or the fact that it's the dominant theme throughout the prophets. He's totally blind to it. All he sees is the world through the microcosm of the rabbis and his religion. Context. It is essential.

Context is essential too when understanding God's animosity toward the religious in Israel because if it had not been for rabbis there would be no Christianity and Islam. These two dominate religions of the world were both created because of rabbinical malfeasance. The religion most devastating to His people, Judaism, is also a rabbinic product.

Let me share an example of reacting emotionally and out of context by returning to the crime scene. I have shared this before, but I want to get into more detail. In 2013, during the Obama administration, the president approved a CIA initiative to overthrow the democratically elected government of the Ukraine. The theory was that, if the pro-Russian government could be brought down by a riotous mob in Kiev brokered by the United States, and supported by the neo-Nazis, Russia's response to the coup would justify the continued existence of NATO, which had become an albatross, unpopular in Europe and the United States. As predicted, Russia was unwilling to accept the confiscation of what had once been their territory and the resulting flow of weapons into the Ukraine. And they would chafe at the designs of the West to make the former Russian state part of a hostile military alliance.

President Putin, therefore, amassed troops along the Ukrainian border to garner the world's attention, with an ultimatum similar to the Cuban Missile Crisis. But rather than doing the right thing, which would have been to demilitarize the Ukraine and shelve NATO to end the prospect of conflict, the United States did the opposite, and provoked the invasion they have subsequently condemned. And the US and Europe continue to taunt the nation with sufficient nuclear weapons to obliterate the planet. Inconceivably, the US and her NATO allies are igniting the fuse on those bombs by pledging to send hundreds-of-billions-of-dollars-worth of their most sophisticated weapons to the Ukraine, assuring greater carnage while negating any possibility of an acceptable solution. And even if they were to prevail those weapons will be wielded by neo-Nazis.

In the process, one of the least functional and most unethical governments in the world, one that has routinely welched on paying its international debt, one that enslaves and drugs its orphans. In serious proportions the orphanages throughout the Ukraine are forced labor, and it is all related to the forced imposition of drugs on those children. The nation with one of the, if not the worst, problems on the continent, with the worst treatment in terms of sexual slavery of its women is the Ukraine, and it is the nation that right now has the biggest problem with neo-Nazism in the world. And we have lit the fuse on the nuclear weapons.

The Russians accused the United States of helping the Ukrainians in developing biological weapons. The first response by the Americans was to say, 'It's not true; it's just a fake report.' The thing that made me say, "I think it probably is true," was the next day the narrative of the Echo Chamber was that if the Russians used biological weapons in the Ukraine, it will be a red line. In other words, they were projecting what they had already done.

My wife showed me the video of the congressional hearing they had. The woman who is Chief Scholar for such things, representing the intelligence community of the United States, was being questioned by Senator Rubio in Florida. Senator Rubio said, "Ma'am there is, of course, no truth to the rumor that the United States is manufacturing chemical and biological weapons in the Ukraine." Now he actually stated the question so she that could give, 'No, there's no truth to that because what we were doing, and the Russians accused us of having labs like the Wuhan labs where they were studying and developing chemical and biological weapons as opposed to actually producing them.' But he was producing them, so he was aiding and abetting the answer that he wanted, but she didn't give it to him. She said, "Sir, that is not exactly true. The fact is we are and have been for some time.” He about had a conniption fit; he didn’t know what to do, he went apoplectic. Subsequently there has been found that over twenty such labs that the United States has sponsored in the Ukraine to develop chemical and biological weapons. It just gets worse and worse. And now the NATO allies are pledging all this money to the Ukraine sending the most sophisticated weapons negating any possibility of a ...

The people who treated Jews worse than the Nazis, yes in the Ukraine, people treated Jews worse than the Nazis, even before Hitler rose to power, and still celebrate the fascist collaborators, are being cast as innocent victims. Please tell that to the mothers and fathers of Jews who watched as Ukrainians ripped the arms and legs off their children and smashed their heads against the walls of their homes.

Just as Yahowah predicted, the heads of state are all wrong, reacting out of context rather than thinking. And they are all adorned in death and destruction – from Putin to Biden and all talking heads in between. But alas, perhaps the Russian president is right in one regard, because he calls the West “An Empire of Lies.”

The media, and the progressives to whom they pander, have gone so far as to call this the most barbaric invasion of one nation by another since World War II. How is it that they missed what the United States did in Iraq with Operation Shock and Awe, the bombardment of Libya back to the stone age, the “Making-a-Bad-Situation-Worse” invasion of Afghanistan, the utter destruction of Syria, or even America’s failed mission in Vietnam? The Russians have killed thousands while the Americans have killed millions.

Spellbound by such nonsense, people the world over are paralyzed and bewildered. Their economies are broken, their leaders have gone mad-drunk on power, and the world is racing to war.

This is not the way you want to meet God. No one who is judged by Him will survive the experience unscathed. Some will die, ceasing to exist, but most of the people on this list will endure a different and far more agonizing and humiliating fate. Immediately after discovering that Yahowah is God, and that the Towrah they rejected is God’s only means to reconcile the Beryth relationship, they will be condemned by Yahowah to eternal incarceration – forever separated from Him.

Beyond the fact that those who are the most revered are the most despised by God, what’s interesting here is that Yahowah will evaluate religious and political schemers by their rules and will respond like they treated others. They will endure what was opined by Akiba and Maimonides, Machiavelli and Marx, Muhammad and Paul, Biden and Putin. Just as they criticized and excommunicated, even sought to incarcerate or murder those who opposed them, they, themselves, will be opposed by God, finding themselves estranged and imprisoned.

Humankind is in a race with death. And as it turns out, most of those whom God would need to sweep away prior to His return will already be dead – the product of mankind’s malfeasance.

Yahowah’s response is fair, even just. He provided the means for us to extend our lives, but we chose to ignore and reject His advice...

“And the word (wa dabar) of Yahowah (YaHoWaH) came to exist with me (hayah ‘el ‘any), to convey (la ‘amar), (Yachezq’el 22:23) ‘Son of Man (ben ‘adam), say to her (‘amar la hy), ‘Yours is a filthy and immoral land (‘atah ‘erets lo’ taHer – yours is an unclean place). She will receive no rain upon her (hy’ lo’ goshem hy) in the Day of Animosity and Anger (ba yowm za’am – during the time of indignation and wrath). (Yachezq’el 22:24)

Yahowah has not yet fulfilled the Day of Animosity and Anger. The Day of Animosity and Anger happens to be the Day of Reconciliations. There’s going to be a remnant reconciled and that’s going to be a marvelous celebration, but the majority of God’s people are going to be obliterated, and they are going to fare better than the world at large. I’ve said this a number of times during this last year that I’ve spent in the prophets is that it appears that the quantity of those individuals that are going to return to Yahowah, they are going to recognize that Yahowah is God, they are going to value His Towrah and engage in the Covenant, the numbers are going to be exceedingly small. Among Jews, I expect the number to be one in a thousand and among Gowym/non-Jews, about one in a million. There are so many more Gowym than Jews; one in a million Gowym is a larger quantity of people than one in a thousand Jews but nonetheless it is going to be an exceedingly small number. The “one-in-a-million number” is the number Yahowah laid out there when He was just beginning to reveal the Towrah when He etched the Second Statement on the first of the two Tablets of Stone. The First Statement says, “I am Yahowah your God who liberated you, who freed you from bondage. You will not continue to exist with any other god in My presence, and that includes Ha Shem, G-d, Adonai/the Lord, or Blessed be He.”

The Second Statement is quite long. It says, “Don’t be religious, don’t hang around religious people, don’t hang around religious buildings, don’t hang around religious art, do not be religious.” At the end of it God says, “Fathers will corrupt their children to the third and fourth generation.” Which is exactly what happened. Religious Jews conceive religious Jews. Political Jews conceive political Jews. It happens among the Gowym as well. Then He says that His mercy/redemption/reconciliation will be afforded to thousands based upon those who are observant of the terms and conditions of the Covenant. It’s going to be available to thousands. Thousands among billions is one in a million. That’s about the numbers we’re going to expect. I think it will be more like one in a thousand of Yahuwdaym, but the numbers are going to be small. That’s why it’s called “The Day of Animosity and Anger” because there will be far more people eliminated on this day because God is disgusted with us, He’s coming back with the mind frame of righteous indignation than are going to be united with Him. A tragic waste of design, energy and effort. So, He is sad.

The treasonous conspiracy (qesher – the conscious and planned rebellion and defiance of authority by those who league and conspire together) of her prophets, those who claim to speak for God (naby’ hy) in her midst (ba tawek hy), will be like the roaring of a vicious lion seeking to pluck away (ka ‘ary sa’ag – will be similar to the guttural anguish of a clawed and fanged beast fiercely hunting its next victim and looking for people to devour; from ‘arah – to pluck away) and rip apart, mangling its prey (taraph taraph – while pursuing the abhorrent death of those he is eviscerating and feeding upon).

The souls being devoured (nepesh ‘akal) are the most treasured and precious things (chosen wa yeqar – the most valuable possession) they have taken (laqach – they have seized and captured), with many who are bound and forsaken by her rabbis, including widows (‘almanah hy' rabah – numerous who are bound and silenced, forsaken and deprived of life) in her midst (ba tawek hy'). (Yachezq'el 22:25)

So here is the Word of Yahowah. If you want to disagree with this, I guess speaking to the Jewish apologist on behalf of their religion, your argument is with Yahowah. You can slander and make fun of me all you want all day long if you wish, but the fact of the matter is these are the words of Yahowah, and He just happens to be God. He is the only way you an escape this life alive.

“And the word (wa dabar) of Yahowah (YaHoWaH) came to exist with me (hayah 'el 'any), to convey (la 'amar), (Yachezq'el 22:23) ‘Son of Man (ben 'adam), say to her (as in say to Yahowah’s people) ('amar la hy'), “Yours is a filthy and immoral land ('atah 'erets lo' taker – yours is an unclean place). She will receive no rain upon her (hy' lo' goshem hy') in the Day of Animosity and Anger (ba yowm za'am – during the time of indignation and wrath). (Yachezq'el 22:24)

Rain is a symbol of life. Without rain plants don't grow, the rivers don't flow, civilizations and towns dry up; everything turns to dust and blows away. I think this is both an accurate reflection of what's going to happen, I think that we are going to see tremendous droughts in places that are already short of water. You happen to be living in the midst of one of those, Kirk, in the People's Republic of California. There is going to be no rain; this is the Day of Animosity and Anger. He's speaking to the nation of Israel and Jews between now and His return in 2033, year 6000 Yah.

He calls them

The treasonous conspiracy (qesher – the conscious and planned rebellion and defiance of authority by those who league and conspire together) of her prophets, those who claim to speak for God (naby' hy')

So it's a treasonous conspiracy by the religious.

in her midst (ba tawek hy'), will be like the roaring of a vicious lion seeking to pluck away (ka 'ary sa'ag – will be similar to the guttural anguish of a clawed and fanged beast fiercely hunting its next victim and looking for people to devour; from 'arah – to pluck away) and rip apart, mangling its prey (taraph taraph – while pursuing the abhorrent death of those he is eviscerating and feeding upon).

That's what He thinks of your rabbis

The souls being devoured (nepesh 'akal) are the most treasured and precious things (chosen wa yeqar – the most valuable possession) they have taken (laqach – they have seized and captured), with many who are bound and forsaken by her rabbis, including widows ('almanah hy' rabah – numerous who are bound and silenced, forsaken and deprived of life) in her midst (ba tawek hy'). (Yachezq'el 22:25)

Her clerics, those who have usurped the role of the priests and, thus, her rabbis (kohen hy' – her ministers, those claiming authority over the rituals and rites of the religion, today's rabbis) have misappropriated and wrongly stripped away aspects of, diminishing the appeal of (chamas – have harmed the intent of, having done great violence to, devising plots which tear away from so as to systematically squander without restraint (qal perfect)), My Towrah | Teaching and Guidance (Towrah ‘any – My Instructions and Directions; derived from tow – My signed, written, and enduring, towrah – way of treating people, tuwr – giving you the means to explore, find, and choose, jarah – the source of instruction, teaching, guidance, and direction that flows from Me, which tuwb – provides answers to facilitate your restoration and return to that which is towb – good, pleasing, beneficial, healing, and right, and that which causes you to be loved, to become acceptable, and to endure, tahowr – purifying and cleansing you, thereby towr – providing you with the opportunity to change your attitude, thinking, and direction).

They did this by imposing their “Torah of the Mouth,” their Babylonian Talmud. Any time you ask a Jew to defend their religious position, they cite the Talmud. They have in God’s words, have misappropriated and wrongly stripped away aspects of, diminishing the appeal of (chamas – have harmed the intent of, having done great violence to, devising plots which tear away from so as to systematically squander without restraint (qal perfect)), My Towrah | Teaching and Guidance (Towrah ‘any – My Instructions and Directions; derived from tow – My signed, written, and enduring, towrah – way of treating people, tuwr – giving you the means to explore, find, and choose, jarah – the source of instruction, teaching, guidance, and direction that flows from Me, which tuwb – provides answers to facilitate your restoration and return to that which is towb – good, pleasing, beneficial, healing, and right, and that which causes you to be loved, to become acceptable, and to endure, tahowr – purifying and cleansing you, thereby towr – providing you with the opportunity to change your attitude, thinking, and direction), because of their preference for their rabbis.

They treat what I have designated as special with contempt, defiling that which I have set apart (wa chahal qodesh ‘any – and My Set-Apart Ones they have profaned and desecrated, dishonored and pierced), failing to make the connections required to understand (bayn – placing a divide between).

They are unable to make the distinction (lo’ badal – they dismiss the distinguishing separation) between (bayn) the Set Apart (qodesh – the Purifying and Cleansing) and that which is ordinary and common (la chol).

This is another of those challenges. The failure of the religious to appreciate the concept of qodesh | set apart. Set apart is unique. To be set apart, unique and special is to be the anthesis of common. The most common two things in Israel today are religion and politics. Those are the common threats. God said, “You don’t understand the distinction between common and special, unique and set apart. To be set apart unto God is to be set apart from that which is common, which religion and politics are the things most common. This distinction is just lost on them. What God says is special, they defile. They have a conniption fit over a million ways to do nothing on the Shabat. How you can do nothing on the Shabat; they are experts at it. That’s not the purpose of the Shabat, to do nothing. Shabat is a day of celebration of our relationship with Yahowah, it’s not a day to do nothing, but they can impose all sorts of religious rules.

What is sad about qodesh is that just like the religious Jews have corrupted Towrah to mean Talmud, they have also corrupted the concept of qodesh to be “kosher” and they ... the entire series of another million laws as to how you have to be kosher; you’re not considered to be a “good Jew” unless you are “kosher.” God says nothing about kosher. There are no food laws in the Towrah; they exist in the Talmud. God says some things are good for you to eat, these are not good for you to eat, that’s all He says. It is not a law. God never says you can’t have a cheeseburger or that you can’t mix dairy and meat. But it’s a hard and fast Jewish rule. They won’t even have the same sink in a “kosher” home. You have to wash dairy in one sink and everything else in another. You have to go four hours between a course that has anything in it other than dairy before you can have your dessert which might include some dairy. It’s all made up. All God said was don’t boil meat in the mother’s milk.

When ‘Abraham was having a meeting with Yahowah, it was, “Go put a lamb on the barbie,” and they had Sarah bring out some curds. We’re talking about a cheeseburger here.

They have managed to turn qodesh, to be set apart from religion, into “kosher” which is to be absurdly religious. They have been unable to make the distinction between what it is to be set apart – qodesh and that which is ordinary and common.

They do not know and will not accept (lo’ yada’ – they have no appreciation for and do not acknowledge) that which differentiates (wa bayn) the filthy and defiled (ha tame’ – the contaminated and polluted) from the flawless and perfect (la tahowr – the clean and pure, the genuine and unmixed).

Further, regarding (wa min) the proper perspective from which to view (‘ayn hem) My Shabats (Shabatowt ‘any – My Vows regarding the Seventh day; from shaba’ – My promise and oath based upon the formula of seven), they are ignorant hypocrites who conceal the truth (‘alam – they have hidden the intent by plastering over them) such that I am profaned and dishonored along with them (wa chahal ba tawek hem – so I am desecrated and treated with contempt in their midst).” (Yachezq’el / God Grows / Ezekiel 22:26)

Yahowah Himself says, “The way the religious Jews observe the Shabat profanes Me” because rather than God liberating, emancipating, freeing, enlightening us and enriching our lives, they would have every possible way of diminishing our freedom constraining what we can do and radically change our productivity. So God says,

I am profaned and dishonored along with them (wa chahal ba tawek hem – so I am desecrated and treated with contempt in their midst).” (Yachezq’el / God Grows / Ezekiel 22:26)

By their Shabats. They are nothing but Hypocrites; they hide the truth.

We have stopped broadcasting but are still recording and I hope that we have some of those, particularly Jews, listening from Boston begin to question their politics and religion. A disproportionate number of Jews in America are Progressives which is the worst form of politics where you forfeited the single greatest tool today and the only tool that you can use to find life in the midst of all this death and carnage, which is your neshamah, the ability to use evidence and reason to deduce logical and correct decisions and conclusions. And it’s forfeited on the Progressives. Way too many Jews are agnostic or atheist and Progressive and anti-Israel, and a disproportionate number are not just religious but Ultra-orthodox running around in their black suits hats and curlicues oppressing women and depriving their youth of any hope.

So we are hoping that you as a listener are beginning to see the world of Jews from Yahowah's perspective. He made a promise to 'Abraham that He is going to reconcile a remnant and it would be wonderful if you were among them. And for that to occur you need to walk away from Judaism; you know it's wrong. You need to leave the Talmud for the Towrah and embrace His prophets. Stop being political.

The first condition of the Covenant is to walk away from your country, from babble, from societal customs and the family of man so that we can walk to God and allow Him to perfect us so that we can trust and rely upon Yahowah such that we carefully examine and closely consider the terms and conditions of His relationship and agreement, understand what He is offering and expecting in return. Then the fifth condition of the Covenant is that we circumcise our sons and raise them so that they remember the Covenant.

This is where we are. We are approaching the celebration of Pesach which is another situation where rabbis have made a mockery of it and do almost everything wrong. They don't realize that Pesach is the Doorway to Life. The Pesach Seder plate is like Qayn's offering to God with everything but the lamb. In the midst of the most important day, Matsah, the celebration of Chag Matsah, the center point of Yahowah's plan of reconciliation and redemption, and yet it has been relegated to an agreement and no longer celebrated as a means to expunge our souls of the fungus of religion so that we all can be adopted, born into Yahowah's family becoming His Covenant sons and daughters such that on Shabuw'ah which has also been fulfilled we are enriched, empowered, enlightened and emancipated. All these are corrupted by the religious. But the truth is out there.

If you are listening to this program and are a Jew, please go to yadayah.com. Yada' means "to know, become familiar with, to acknowledge" in Hebrew Yah or Yahowah is God's name. It's time to acknowledge and recognize Yahowah. Go to yadayah.com and begin reading.

An Introduction to God is a great place to start. Come to know who Yahowah is and what He has to say to His people. Come to know His timing, what He has to offer and what He's expecting in return, how much time you have left to get this right.

We exist, these books were written, this program is produced primarily for you but also for Yahowah's family to help feed, nurture and support the Covenant.

Normally I would apologize for starting off on such a sour note with a recap of the news but in this case the news is the prophecy, and the prophecy is the news; they are one in and the same, so it's important to hear.

Next week we are going to continue making our way through Yachezq'el / God Grows / Ezekiel. I think the chapter that follows which begins with a review of Daniel and then goes into Mal'aky, the last of the prophets, is something we should also consider.

Thank you all for listening. We look forward to you being with us next week. May Yah bless. Have a wonderful week and learn as much as we can and share God's message with all who will listen. Good night.
