Good evening and welcome to Yada Yah. We're here with Kirk.

It continues to be a world in rapid decline. The United States approved some 40 billion dollars for the war in the Ukraine. U S politicians, senators, and congressmen are openly stating that their intent is to eliminate Putin, to destroy the military of "our enemy" as if we had declared war on Russia. We have pledged a significant amount of what I think is now 50 billion to "protect the Ukrainian borders." This is an administration that won't protect the American borders! We'll spend billions on anti-aircraft, anti-tank, and anti-personnel weapons to go kill Russians, but we can't get baby formula on or shelves. We have an economy that is in freefall. Inflation is the worst it has been in many decades, our supply lines are trashed, and yet with the dollar in freefall, our economy in shambles, with our deficit growing at record rates, we've declared an unofficial war on Russia, the nation with the most nuclear weapons in the world. There is no question how this world is going to digress from what it was pre-COVID to what it will be in the summer of 2029 when all hell breaks loose. There's no way to stop it.

Yahowah said the catalyst for the turning point for Israel proper, when millions of jihadists flood into Israel when Israel is narrowed at the waist and becomes indefensible such that the so-called "West Bank" is given to the Mudslimes, the Fakestinians; it's the fall of Damascus that causes that. Do you know that the only reason that the Damascus government still stands is because of Russia. Russia's military is saying the consequence of other than Assad is worse than Assad, which is the distinction we couldn't make as Americans in Iraq or Libya where we weren't smart enough to recognize that other than Saddam Hussein and other than Muammar Gaddafi was actually worse than those two dictators. So Putin has actually made the right call as bad as Assad is, but with the world pouring billions of dollars now of advanced weaponry into the Ukraine declaring war on Russia, providing intelligence for Russia, and all the weapons for the Ukraine to use against Russia, Russia is not going to be able to support Damascus. And when they pull out of Damascus ... it falls. And what does Yahowah say happens when it falls? That is the time of the Taruw'ah harvest, the removal of God's people from the planet, and the time of Ya'aqob's Troubles.

As a consequence of all this, of us aiding and abetting world war with the United States as the provokers of that war, there's a food crisis of major magnitude around the world. Prices are soaring. It's not just that prices of food are up 30%, 40%, 50%, fertilizer is up by more than that and without fertilizer we are going to have greater shortages. Without fuel there is no ability to transport that food even if it was grown, so we are in a position where it's going to get much worse before if it ever gets better.

And all of that is because we were so stupid that we put embargos and sanctions on Russia, aided and abetted the invasion of Russia and put the world in the position of ultimate crisis. It's one of the most stunning reversals of fortune probably in world history. Wheat has increased in price by 45%, cooking oils have increased by 40%, the price of chicken has increased by 42%; countries around the world are going to starve, and when people starve there are revolutions. There is a 69% increase in the price of fertilizers.

There is a journalist today that I have listened to probably 15 – 20 times, and only in passing while I'm eating dinner – Tucker Carlson of Fox News. I don't much like Fox News, but this fellow is exceptional. While I beat him to a problem in the Ukraine, I recognized what we were going to do was abysmally stupid five months before he did and was beating this drum about the Ukraine every week five months before he picked it up. I must say that his analysis of what's happening in the Ukraine is brilliant. I would strongly encourage folks to listen to him. He is unique. He recognizes that the problem is on both sides of the isle with democrats and republicans; none of them deserve to hold office in this country for what they have done. It's shameful. But his analysis of the reasons behind the Ukraine are really quite insightful.

I remember going back seven or eight years ago doing three hours of news commentary on Shattering Myths five days a week. I would scour the news and I thought my insights on what was happening around the world, and what was being reported about what was happening were pretty astute. I've got to tell you, this fellow is better than I was. He's really good at heralding the seriousness of the problems that undergird America, and he doesn't mince words; he tells it like it is.

There is another problem in America. Finally even the Left is recognizing that Black Lives Matter was a horrendous mistake. The basis of Black Lives Matter was a complete and utter lie and blacks at a factor of 8 to 1 are more likely to kill blacks than whites. So the whole finger-pointing-thing was unbelievably stupid. They have found in two years of research since Black Lives Matter raised its ugly head that conditions in the black community are far worse than before the organization rose to influence. Homicides on blacks have skyrocketed and have gone from about 7,400 a year in America to 10,000, a stunning increase. Crime in the black community is up a similar percentage because as a cop you have to be out of your ever-loving mind to police the black community. Why would you do that? If you make a mistake you're going to end up in jail. The last time I checked we humans are prone to mistakes. You're dealing in many cases with people who are drugged out of their mind, who have no conscience, who would just as soon kill you as anything else, have no means of working things out using words, and you're going to go in there risking your life knowing that everybody in the world is going to be against you if you actually harm one of the belligerents, even if they were drugged (as was George Floyd), even if they were passing counterfeit bills, resisting arrest, if you get too aggressive (which Chauvin clearly was) you're going to spend 40 years in jail. The accused ... you can rest assured he had zero intent to kill him. There was no premeditation, but it doesn't matter. So by their focus on defunding the police, on blaming whites for the problems that blacks are perpetrating on themselves, they have made the conditions vastly worse in the black communities across America, and they have no one to blame but themselves. It is the problem with Progressives, evidence and reason do not matter. Gun related homicides in the black community rose year after year after Black Lives Matter by 35% a year, overall homicides up by 40%. It is exactly as we said it would be.

Recent disclosures have found that Black Lives Matter paid six million dollars for a home in the Los Angeles area, a Studio City property, and the founder of Black Lives Matter use it personally. Being a good Marxist, the founder of Black Lives Matter used the money to buy several homes for herself and her supporters. She said, "While I've made regrettable mistakes that do not ensure trust and even admit to using personal property the criticisms of me are wrong."

One of the sad things happening in Israel now is that the Fakestinian authority has decided they are not going to allow, even under joint custody, Israel to inspect the bullet that shot and killed Shireen Abu Akel. She's called a journalist but is not, she's a propagandist. You know she's a propagandist because she was given a State funeral draped in the Fakestinian flag, Fakestinian parade marchers, etc, and worked for Al Jazeera which is a Muslim-State-owned organization. The Israelis said, "Obviously, she was killed and there was a battle in this area because of the increased murders by Islamic terrorists of Jewish civilians, so we're not going to continue to sit by, wait for the next killing, and then go after the killers. We want to root out those who are planning the next murder and thereby save lives of innocent people." So they were there in that community and this propagandist decided she would film those terrible Jews defending their right to live. She was shot and killed. The Fakestinians who were shooting screamed, "We got one, I got an Israeli military officer and I see him; he fell dead." No Israeli military officer was killed, only the so called "journalist".

Jews are pretty well disciplined on their riflery and tactics. They do not shoot indiscriminately but the Mudslimes do. So, it's highly likely the Muslims killed her and therefore the Fakestinian authorities will not allow Israel to examine the bullet because both sides use 223 ammunition; the United States supplies the rifles and munitions to the Palestinian authorities and the IDF uses the same caliber. So all you could do is say, "We'll compare that bullet to all the rifles of our troops that were there and if it was one of our people that errantly shot her then we will take full accountability and apologize for it. If it's one of yours then stop screaming that we committed murder because that's clearly not true." The world is just eating this up. It loves to blame Israel.

On another note, the United States decided it would continue hoodwinking and manipulating the world into opposing Russia. Bulgaria, which borders Russia, is going to receive natural gas supplies (who previously received gas from Russia) from the United States. So our fuel prices will continue to rise.

The top U S Senate Republican released the findings of an investigation earlier this week that demonstrates that the Los Angeles mayor, Eric Garcetti, knew that his top advisor was sexually harassing city employees and was routinely making racist remarks. So now what?

Also, on the side of the world that is falling apart, the pro-abortion protestors have not just marched to show their animosity towards the Supreme Court for the draft that indicates they are going to overturn Roe v Wade (probably on a 5 – 4 vote, just as it was passed), they are now marching to the homes of justices like John Roberts and Brett Kavanaugh. So they are threatening Supreme Court justices, going to their homes for "safe" abortions. How safe is abortion for the unborn child?

My view on abortion has always been that in first trimester it's hard to argue with the woman with the man who impregnated her. Collectively they should have a say on what they wish to do. In the third trimester it is clearly murder and the woman, her husband or boyfriend if he is encouraging it and the doctor should all be indicted for murder because that child is viable on its own. In the second trimester you are at a time where if the fetus is viable, the child could live outside of its mother, then it's murder. You need to be really careful about these sorts of things. We need to have a conversation that limits abortion to a very finite cross section of people. To have a conversation about it is difficult __ Yahowah is both pro choice and pro life, so it's hard to bring God into this discussion. Reason should prevail and of course in politics it seldom does.

Speaking of a lack of reason, the European Parliament which is becoming unbelievably liberal just put out an edict which demands that Israel not build homes in what they call the West Bank. The fourteen European nations said in a joint statement issued today, “We are deeply concerned by the decision of the Israeli Higher Planning Council to advance plans for the construction of more than 4,000 housing units in the West Bank.

It makes perfect sense. We don't want to condemn when Muslims come in and use knives and axes to kill Jews. We don't want to condemn the Taliban for taking that country back to the stone age. But we will condemn Israel for building houses. Can you think of any other country in the world that is condemned for building homes? How big of a racist do you have to be to condemn people of not only building homes but doing so in their ancestral homeland?

I had sent you, Kirk, earlier this week the chapter I had finished writing called Ka 'Any / Like Me. It is the 10th chapter of the 7th volume of Yada Yahowah. You read it said, “Boy, this is really interesting. Can we do a show starting on this chapter?” I said, “Okay, what the heck.” I found it interesting too. You never know when you're doing these things, because I quite honestly find every chapter interesting ... ten hours a day you ... right, you'd be crazy if you didn't find it interesting. The more you learn, the more you're able to learn and the more you understand the more you're able to understand, so it is reinforcing in that way.

My view is that one of the most interesting prophecies found anywhere in the Towrah is presented by Mosheh who is the leading expert on the subject of prophecy. Considering the instructions on who to distrust which are associated with the revelations, so in this particular revelation his focus is who we should not trust. It is quite amazing that both Christianity and Islam lay claim to this prophecy. Both religions claim it speaks of their god when it actually applies to David. And the Jews for whom it was written have long failed to recognize the individual who is actually being depicted. And yet what the prophet Mosheh was describing not only resides at the center of Yahowah's story, this fellow is the most interesting man in the world. His life will be even greater in the future than it was in the past. The second of four Zarowa' is most like Mosheh of all the people who have ever lived and his life calibrates our assessment of time with an equal number of years spanning his life on either side of 'Eden, 3,000 years separating our expulsion from 'Eden and our reentering.

We're going to cover this prophecy from the beginning to the end because the teaching associated with it is exceedingly helpful and is seldom considered because it begins talking about the Lowy and the lives of the Lowy is not something that is interesting to most people. Rabbinical Judaism can't stand it because they want to pretend like the Lowy don't exist and God never spoke of them because rabbis have replaced the Lowy just as HaShem and G-d have replaced Yahowah. So they want nothing to do with this part of Dabarym. Of course, Christians have replaced Yahowah's priests with their own, and I'm not sure Muslims know what a priest is.

If you think I'm being pavorative towards Muslims and Fakestinians, really my comments are ... no they are far too kind. Islam is far worse than I am stating in this program and I don't say that as a matter of opinion but as a matter of fact. Should you not agree, then you read Prophet of Doom and then get back to me.

We're going to cover this prophecy from beginning to end because as I said, the teaching is very helpful and very seldom considered. Where we're going to read leaves no quarter for the religious. It impunes everyone who has claimed to have received a vision from God since Mal'aky some 2,450 years ago.

Speaking of the Lowy, those enlisted by Yahowah to serve Yisra'elites, Mosheh began the 18th Chapter of Dabarym by saying,

“There should never be (lo’ hayah – it should not exist (qal imperfect)) for the Lowy (ha Lowy – for the family line descended from Lowy, the son of Ya’aqob and Leah, those who were assigned responsibilities within the Tabernacle, meaning to join together and unite, commonly transliterated ‘Levite’) among the priests (la ha kohen – for those officiating as ministers and mediators, teachers and advisors, judges and counselors), inclusive of the entire lineage (kol shebet – every branch and tribe, all of the clan who are offshoots) of Lowy (Lowy), parcels of land, possessions, donations (cheleq – an allotment of property, a plot of ground, or belongings which are given, assigned, or derived from obligatory offerings), or an inheritance (wa nachalah – a share which is apportioned or assigned to successive generations) associated with Yisra’el (‘im Yisra’el – as part of the descendants of Ya’aqob).

So this is devastating for any cleric who has received a stipend, salary, or donations. And that would be really tough on the rabbis who are overpaid by 300% compared to the rest of religious leaders. They are the ultimate money grubbers.

God is saying if you are going to serve Me in this role as a priest, those officiating as ministers and mediators, teachers and advisors, judges and counselors, if you're going to serve me in those roles and you are an offspring of the Lowy, you are not to own land, possessions or receive donations. You don't even get an inheritance which is assigned to successive generations associated with the land of Yisra'el.

They will be nourished by (‘akal – they will derive sustenance from) their inheritance (nachalah huw’ – them receiving an inalienable portion and enduring heritage) – the transforming fire and maternal light (‘isheh – the elevating energy, that which converts physical organic material into energy and light, commonly rendered offering by fire; ‘ishah – woman, female individual, wife, and mother and ‘esah – feminine fire) of Yahowah (YaHoWaH). (Dabarym 18:1)

So the compensation for the Lowy / Kohen is to be sustained by an inheritance that includes the transforming fire and maternal light (‘isheh – the elevating energy, that which converts physical organic material into energy and light, commonly rendered offering by fire; ‘ishah – woman, female individual, wife, and mother and ‘esah – feminine fire).

So what the Lowy are going receive, if they do their job as God asked, is that their inheritance will be to be transformed from a physical being that is decaying into a spiritual energy being that will live forever. I would prefer that to money.

By the way, that's the same offer that Yahowah is providing for anyone who chooses to work with Him in this way. Don't illicit money for serving God's people by communicating His Will and Word. Your reward is elsewhere.

Therefore (wa), an inheritance (wa nachalah – a share which is apportioned or assigned to successive generations or an inalienable apportionment assigned to successive generations) will not exist (lo’ hayah) for them (la huw’) among their brethren (ba qereb ‘ach huw’ – in the midst of their brothers).

Their inheritance comes from God, therefore, they are not going to receive an inheritance from their brethren.

Yahowah (YaHoWaH – our ‘elowah | God as directed in His ToWRaH | teaching regarding His HaYaH | existence and our ShaLoWM | restoration) is their inheritance, their birthright and legacy (nachalah huw’ – is their enduring heritage and portion) in accordance with what He has said regarding the relationship (ka 'asher dabar – consistent with His word and the promises He has made pertaining to the benefits of the proper path) for them (la huw' – for them to approach and draw near).” (Dabarym / Words / Deuteronomy 18:2)

It's simple and profound. If you want to engage, today no one even knows if they are a Lowy because the Children of Yisra'el became so misled, misguided and lost in their religion they all but invited the Romans to come in and conquer them. And when the Temple was destroyed, the genealogical records were destroyed and by that time after the Maccabees anyway the rabbis had replaced the kohen and the Lowy. It's kind of the first revolution in Israel and the Maccabean revolution really speaks to that. It was a revolution for power. In fact the first invasion of Rome in Israel taking place about 66 BCE was all over this where two brothers both wanted to be chief priest. Alexanderia, the mommy, had two sons. She wanted one son to be king and the other son to be chief priest. The money and power was with the chief priest so the sons were bickering over who would be chief priest, not who would be king. This whole idea of people who aren't Lowy, who are doing this for money, that particular revolution took place shortly after and during the Maccabean Revolt which is really what it was all about.

What Yahowah is saying is that He is setting this up so that each of the tribes of Yisra'el were given land and an inheritance of that land, and they are all given the opportunity to inherit the Covenant. But the Lowy were going to be special; this was going to be a group that was going to be the closest to Yahowah, who were going to officiate at the Miqra'ey to enable the people to benefit from the Invitations to Meet with God. They would help teach the Towrah, help decide disputes between the people and would be the defacto leaders of Yisra'el whose constitution would be the Towrah, and it was a marvelous way of keeping the society functioning effectively.

But to do it, Yahowah realized there was so much power, and with power there is wealth, associated with these roles that the only way that this was going to work was that those who served Him who recognized that life is short and that their inheritance would be in Eternity, and that the way He set it up.

Kirk, you receive the same remuneration that I do for your participation in this program. I do this six and seven days a week, eight to ten hours a day, and I've done it now for 21 years. I pay for the privilege. That is the way it needs to be, it just has to be that way if we are going to be effective stewards of Yahowah's Testimony. So He is clearly stating the way He wants it to be.

Keep in mind the Lowy were not malnourished; they were well fed. They were very comfortable; they could stay in anyone's home. They had the greatest job in the world. They worked for the greatest, most wonderful boss in the world, their lives had value and purpose, and when they did their jobs well they got to live forever in Yahowah's home inheriting the universe. That's a good deal, folks!

I've shared this a gazillion times. I do this six and seven times a week eight to ten hours a day. It's not a sacrifice, it's a statement of commitment. I do it because I enjoy it, I get a lot out of it, and I know my life matters when I do it. I know it's pleasing to God.

Every cleric the world over, especially the money-grubbing rabbis, are complete hypocrites when they accept any remuneration for their services. If a person wants to serve God's people, there are a number of baseline requirements – all of which were prescribed in this opening statement and none of which any cleric is currently observing.

Any work on behalf of God's people must be offered freely without profiting economically. We may not accept donations, a salary, or monetary gifts. The servant's contributions must be ka 'asher dabar Yahowah | in Yahowah's name and consistent with God's testimony, especially regarding the proper way to receive the benefits of the relationship.

In addition, we should recognize and advance the specific responsibilities assigned to the Lowy kohen pertaining to Yahowah's Home and His Miqra'ey. Our principal resource must be the Towrah, in which this instruction was placed, and our intended audience should be Yisra'el, to whom Moseh spoke and led.

Considering how frustrated Yahowah has been with Yisra'el these past 3,000 years for having forgotten Him and for having broken the Covenant, the last thing anyone should want is to receive the inheritance of the disinherited. Moreover, prior to Yahowah's return and the restoration of Yisra'el, most of Israel is way too polluted with the religious to be invit... Take Jerusalem, for example. The most recent survey of its inhabitants reveals that they are equally divided among the stench of the Haredim, anti-Semitic Muslims seeking to kill and expel Jews, and government employees who are overtly political. And it is littered with religious and government buildings.

If you gave me a private aircraft to soar between here in the US Virgin Islands and Israel tomorrow and said, "We'll put you up in the Presidential Suite in the King David Hotel overlooking the Temple Mount, all expenses paid. The first meeting will be with the Prime Minister, and you can have keys to the city," I wouldn't go. I've been there. I think my reaction to Jerusalem was the same as Yahowah's. ... place stinks to high heaven. It is way too religious, too political, too polluted with monuments to man, and that's not going to change until Yahowah's return. I want to go back when it's looking like God has envisioned.

The proper inheritance is to be nourished by the transformative light of our Spiritual Mother, to experience the promised conversion from physical organic beings to energy and light. What Yahowah is offering is elevating, empowering, enlightening, and enduring. The superior inheritance is to be part of the Covenant, to be a member of Yahowah's family, and to live with our God. This occurs when we listen to what He says regarding this relationship.

The Lowy | Levites, by serving God's people, by leading them home while working as intermediaries during the Miqra'ey Invitations, inherited Yah's blessings.

Keep in mind that explaining the Miqra'ey is a big deal. They are complicated. What God is offering, how He is going about honoring His promises is very complex. I've written three volumes just on those seven days. There's a lot to them. The Lowy had a big job. It wasn't just to explain this is what you do with the lamb, yeast and matsah, the timing of it, and what it represents. All those symbols are important. All of what God did do and would do to honor His promises; all of it is essential. All that was discussed in great detail in the Towrah and Prophets.

The Lowy | Levites, by serving God's people, by leading them home while working as intermediaries during the Miqra'ey Invitations, inherited Yah's blessings. As retirement packages go, this one was as good as it gets. So let's not feel sorry for them – or anyone else who serves God and His people. The perks and privileges are out of this world.

Should you be of the opinion that this pronouncement pertains exclusively to the "Levites" and thus not apply to your gentile church, your Arab mosque, or your statehouse, you'd be correct. There are no instructions for gentile churches, mosques, or governments because they are expressly excluded from God's company and plans. So, since these are the only instructions Yahowah prescribed for humankind we either accept them or we reject Him.

This known, it is important that we recognize who the Lowy | Levites are, and why they were excluded from one inheritance and offered another. They bear Lowy's name, which he was given by his mother as the third of six sons born to Ya'aqob and Leah. She wanted her husband, Ya'aqob, to be more devoted and attracted to her, vs. her sister, which is why she named him Lowy | to be united and joined together. Lowy was also the great-grandfather of Moseh, 'Aharown, and Miryam.

The Lowy were set apart from the other descendants of Ya'aqob. Their role was to serve Yisra'el as teachers, advisors, judges, and guides. Their primary purpose was to act as intermediaries, uniting Yahowah and Yahuwdym during the Miqra'ey. They had the most important job on earth, which was helping Yah's people understand the benefits they can enjoy by observing the Towrah and participating in the Beryth / Covenant, while answering the Mow'ed Invitations.

I have used past tense to describe the Lowy kohen because as I mentioned earlier they have been replaced, not by God but by the religious – especially rabbis. Rather than a priest serving to affirm the Towrah and aid in the celebrations of the Miqra'ey, Jews have appointed rabbis to replace God's words, name, and meetings with their own.

Think about it for a moment. Lowy means "to unite." Rabbi means "to be great." What do you think Yahowah prefers?

This is Yahowah's plan – one completely rejected by Judaism. Mosheh is the one speaking. I said he was an expert on prophecy. He is also the foremost expert on what it means to be a Lowy kohen; he is the first and foremost of the Lowy kohen

“And this (wa zeh) shall be (hayah) the plan (mishpat – the share due based upon the correct decision and good judgment) for the priests (kohen – for those officiating as ministers and mediators, teachers and advisors, judges and counselors) from the people (min 'eth ha 'am): out of the sacrificial animal prepared for the offering and consumption (min zebach ha zebach), whether a cow or sheep ('im showr 'im seh), they shall give (nathan – bestow, appoint, and offer) to the priest (la ha kohen) the shoulder of the sacrificial lamb (zarowa'), jaw (lachy), and the belly (wa ha qebah). (Dabarym 18:3) The first and best (re'shyth) of your grain (dagan 'atah), of your new wine (tyrowsh 'atah – freshly pressed wine), and of your oil (wa yitshar 'atah), as well as your choicest fleece (wa re'shyth gez 'atah) from your flock of sheep (tso'n 'atah) you should give to them (nathan la huw'). (Dabarym 18:4)

For indeed (ky), Yahowah (YaHoWaH), your God ('elohym 'atah), has chosen (bachar – has selected and desires) among them (ba huw'), out of all of the branches of the extended family of your people (min kol shebet 'atah) to be present, stationed and standing ('amad – to persist and endure, remaining upright to affirm), to serve and render assistance (la sharath – attending, contributing, and supporting) in the name (ba shem) of Yahowah (YaHoWaH), he and his sons (huw' wa ben huw'), every day throughout time (kol ha yowmym – for all of the days).” (Dabarym / Words / Deuteronomy 18:5)

So tell me, Jews. Why do you have rabbis? How can you carry around the Towrah, claim to be Towrah observant, and listen to a rabbi? God said, "This is My plan for every day throughout time," that they would render assistance in the name of Yahowah, and godforsaken rabbis won't even say His name. You ought to be embarrassed. What's wrong with you?

Now, we went into this saying that it was going to be the most extraordinary of prophecies, and here we are talking about the functions of the Lowy priests. Yet if we don't understand God's plan, what good is it to unveil the identity of a person spoken of in prophecy? This is really the essence of it, the teaching that matters.

No wonder the rabbis are opposed to such things. The priests didn't get paid. They served in Yahowah's name, and had to work weekends.

But alas, had the Lowy continued to do as Yahowah requested, they would be well-fed, handsomely attired, and suitably hydrated. Their job would have been exceedingly rewarding as well. To be bachar | chosen by Yahowah to work with Him is the ultimate honor and privilege.

Let's make this clear. Yahowah chooses. This idea of religion that you choose to worship your god, honor your god, be converted to your religion, that that is a personal choice; that's not the way it works. Yahowah does the choosing. We have the opportunity to accept or reject His choice, but other than Yisra'el, Yahowah very seldom chooses someone that isn't going to choose Him back. So it is the nature of God to make these choices. It's clear that God has no interest in saving everyone, no interest in working with everyone. For those who say, "I have chosen the ministry. I have chosen to serve God" is bull. That's not the way it works. God chooses who works with Him, that's all there is to it. If God hasn't chosen you to work with Him, you ought not be doing it. If you don't work in Yahowah's name, you ought not be doing it. If you're in it for the money, you ought not be doing it.

You'll notice that, while the priests weren't given money, everything Yahowah asked for on behalf of the Lowy was symbolic. If we were to apply this to a contemporary situation, it would be appropriate to feed and clothe those who are promoting the Towrah while also paying for their utilities (olive oil). Yahowah's ministers were not given a salary or a housing allowance. Their only reward was the Covenant and its benefits. So, we have found the first of many reasons rabbis, pastors, and priests seldom preach from Dabarym 18.

Yahowah's list of "just rights" is especially revealing. The "lamb" is symbolic of Passover and of eternal life. The Zarowa represents Moseh, Dowd, Yahowsha', and likely Yada. The jaw and belly speak of nourishing words. Re'shyth is the first word of the Towrah. Wine is symbolic of the blood sprinkled on the doorway and Mercy Seat during Passover and Reconciliations. And olive oil represents the Set-Apart Spirit as She enlightens and nurtures us. The fleece speaks of being part of Yahowah's flock and of being enveloped and adorned by the Ruwach. This was more than a list of ingredients; it was a teaching moment.

And there were many strokes left in Yahowah's brush. So while every other tribe was assigned a particular territory within Yisra'el, the Lowy had free rein...

"And if a Lowy (wa ky ha Lowy) shall come from (bow' min – will go in and out of) one of your communities ('echad sha'ar 'atah) anywhere within Yisra'el (min kol Yisra'el), where, to show the proper path to walk to get the greatest joy out of life ('asher), he resides as a guest in that place (huw' guwr sham), he may come to and enter (wa bow') wherever his soul desires (ba kol 'awah nepesh huw') – toward the dwelling place and home ('el ha maqowm) which, for the benefit of the relationship ('asher), Yahowah (Yahowah – as directed in His towrah – teaching regarding His hayah – existence) will choose (bachar – will select as His preference). (Dabarym 18:6)

And he will render assistance, be attentive, and serve (wa sharath) in the name of Yahowah (ba shem YaHoWaH), his God ('elohym huw'), just like all of his fellow Lowy (ka kol 'ach huw' ha Lowy), who will be present and standing there (ha 'amad sham) before Yahowah (la paneh Yahowah – in the presence and at the appearance of YaHoWaH)." (Dabarym / Words / Deuteronomy 18:7)

So the Lowy didn't inherit a particular plot of ground as did the 12 Tribes. No. They got free reign. Just as spiritual beings we have free reign of the entire universe God is setting that right up here. The Lowy's, whose inheritance is to become as light, can enjoy any home within the community. But when they are there, their job is not to be a parasite; their job isn't to tell the homeowner, "Move out of your bed. I'm moving in." No. God chooses where He wants them to go and when they enter that home then they are to work for the benefit of the relationship that Yahowah is seeking to establish with His people. The Lowy is to render assistance, to be attentive, to serve in the name of Yahowah. The Lowy is to be present and standing before Yahowah. A very simple formula.

Stand before God, do not bow down. Render assistance, do not be served. Understand that this is God's home and that we serve at His pleasure.

There is more to this than freedom of movement within Yisra'el. Through the Miqra'ey and by walking along the proper path to receive the benefits of the Covenant relationship, we are transformed from physical organic beings who are limited in space and time. Our souls will become more akin to energy and light, and we will be able to travel whenever and wherever we desire.

Man, as is the case with all animals, has a nepesh | soul. God is ruwach – spirit. If we want to live with Him, we need what He has. Fortunately, He is willing to give us access to the Ruwach Qodesh | Set-Apart Spirit. She comes bearing gifts and they are all free. But that is not to say that Yahowah doesn't expect something in return. He does. He wants to develop a familial relationship along the lines of the Beryth | Covenant.

Maqowm – dwelling place and home" associated with Yahowah's choosing is Mount Mowryah – the sham | place upon which the Beryth | Covenant was affirmed with 'Abraham and Yitschaq, the place upon which Yahowah's Home was built, and upon which He provided the Passover Lamb for the sacrifice. This maqowm | standing place is where God and man are united, where souls come to endure forever in Yahowah's presence. Maqowm means "to stand up, to take a stand, to establish, to be accountable." Mah is an interrogatory and it asks us to question the who took a stand, where did they take a stand, why did they take a stand, how did they take this stand and, of course, what we find that this maqowm speaks of fulfillment of the Miqra'ey by Yahowah Himself.

Yahowah reminds us that the only appropriate compensation for services rendered in association with Him comes from Him, not from men. We can feed, clothe, and brighten the lives of His ministers, even welcome them into our homes so that we can listen to them, but we aren't to pay them. There is no donate button on the Yada Yah website, and there never will be one. Yes the books that are available at Amazon are not free, but they are royalty free; all you are paying for is the cost of printing and the entire set of books, should you wish to pay nothing, is available free. It is also available in Kindle format for pennies.

This is a litmus test. Should anyone claim that they are serving the people on behalf of God and receive donations or monetary compensation for their ministry, as is the case with 99% of clerics worldwide, they are not to be trusted. Boy, that puts the Roman Catholic Church with it's billions of dollars in some of the most expensive real estate in the world in quite a pickel, doesn't it?

Let's be honest among ourselves. It's not just the money – it is the lies, the betrayal of the people. Yahowah holds every religious cleric in contempt. He will hold them accountable by sentencing today's rabbis and priests to a long stay in She'owl.

This is Dabarym / Words / Deuteronomy 18:8. Deuteronomy is Greek rubbish. The Greeks and theologians will tell you that Deuteronomy means "second law." Of course, there is no first one. I don't know how they got second. It's a real shame that ... we would take Dabarym which means “words” and change it to a misappropriated ... That is what has been done.

“They shall have an equal share and portion (cheleq ka cheleq – a similar reward) for them to consume (‘akal), besides (la bad – in addition to) the selling price of the merchandise (mimkar – the proceeds of the liquidation of goods) of their fathers (huw’ ‘al ha ‘ab).” (Dabarym / Words / Deuteronomy 18:8)

This seems to suggest that, even though the Lowly kohen share of food, wine, or olive oil was designed to be consistently fair, if a bumper crop yielded more than they could consume, their fathers were able to sell the surplus. This statement also suggests that Yahowah is supportive of the idea of providing an inheritance for our children – passing along what we have earned to make their lives better. It is yet another way for us to model His intent through the Covenant.

As we examine the next several statements, we are confronted with the realization that the tow’ebah | abominable things conducted by the gowym that are being disparaged, and which God wants His people to avoid, focus on religious beliefs, disingenuous people, and intrusive government. Therefore, the things men and women love, the things that bring people together and shape their lives, are the very things Yahowah abhors.

The second insight is more subtle, albeit heartbreaking. Since Yisra’el failed Yahowah by incorporating these things into their culture, and became like the gentiles, God had to find a gowy who had rejected the ways of religion and politics to reconnect with His wayward children. And while that's a joyous opportunity for me and for us, it's very sad for Yahowah. He ought to have been able to work with His people as intended, but there were none.

Third, while there are many aspects of the Egyptian, Babylonian, Assyrian, Greek, and Roman religions that have been melded into Judaism, Christianity is an overt amalgamation of these religions. Even “Bible” is based upon Babel | Babylon – being confused by the Lord. Some of the many abominations of the gentiles which were included in Christianity include their trinity, crosses, worshipping the Lord, Christmas, Easter, Sunday observances, the Mother of God, the Queen of Heaven and the Son of God, along with the myth of a dying and resurrected deity becoming more popular than the father of the gods. The integration of church and state is an idea originally incubated within these gentile civilizations, as is ongoing war and killing in the name of their god. The papal system of cardinals, bishops, priests, and nuns originated in gentile cultures as did the feudal system imposed by the Roman Catholic Church. At its core, Christianity is an amalgamation of misguided gentile ways.

“Indeed, when (ky – surely because, at the point in time) you come upon (‘atah bow’ ‘el – you enter into, are led and return to, and are included within) the land which, for the benefit of the relationship (‘asher), Yahowah, your God (Yahowah ‘elohym ‘atah), is giving (nathan – is bestowing and entrusting) to you (la ‘atah), you should not accept, learn, teach, or imitate (lo’ lamad – you should not instruct, be trained in, or become accustomed to), such that you act upon and engage in (la ‘asah – you effect, attend to, commit, celebrate, profit from, bring about, ordain, institute, or perform), any semblance (ka – any derivative or similitude) of the disgusting religious rites and political practices (tow’ebah – abhorrent ceremonies, detestable idolatrous mythologies, repulsive and loathsome rituals, abominable festivals) of the Gentiles (ha gowym ha hem – of the people from different races, customs, and places).” (Dabarym / Words / Deuteronomy 18:9)

It makes no difference if the “tow’ebah – disgusting religion” is of Egyptian origin, Babylonian, Assyrian, Greek, or Roman. The names of the sun, moon, and star gods changed, but little else. Roman Catholicism, Rabbinic Judaism, and Islam were all based upon variations of the same formula. They deceive by counterfeiting the truth, by misappropriating the things of Yahowah. Collectively and individually, they lead mankind away from Yahowah and to separation and death. Their every rite, ritual, and object of worship is an abomination, detestable, abhorrent, and repulsive.

Before the show started this evening, Kirk, you said that, "It's hard to imagine, considering what Yahowah, the only real God is offering, that so many men and women have chosen a fake god." I challenged that and said, "They haven't chosen them, they have made them their god." They didn't like the idea of ... God, they didn't like the idea that God was intolerant of religion and politics so they just made a god in their own image who likes them; a god who would listen to them, a god who would support their religion, who would agree with their politics, a god who would want to give them everything they requested, who would promise them eternal life in paradise. That's what they want. So it's not that they chose a fake god, they simply made their own god so that their god would like them because their god was like them.

The ways of religion, politics, economic oppression, militarism, and conspiracy are not to be accepted. They should not be taught, tolerated, imitated, performed, ordained, or instituted. This Divine edict is so essential it serves as the basis for the Second Statement Yahowah etched on the First of the Two Stone Tablets. Don't be religious.

It all comes down to this: Who do you trust - yourself, no one, other men and women, gods of your own making, or Yahowah? What is your preference: the rantings of Progressive Wokism and Socialist Secular Humanism, Communism or Fascism, Buddhism, Hinduism, Mormonism, or Judaism, Roman Catholicism, Orthodox and Protestant Christianity, or worse, Islam? They are counterproductive and offer nothing more than false hope. In fact the best thing you can get out of religion is to die. Seriously. A statement of fact. The best thing you can hope for in religion is to die because if you promote your religion, if you mislead people away from Yahowah because of your religion then you're going to She'owl where you will never die. So the best you can hope for if you are religious is to die and that doesn't sound like a cause to dedicate one's money or life to does it? It all comes down to this: If Yahowah is right, then they are all wrong.

Yahowah wanted Yahuwadm to remain untainted by the corruption which surrounded them. They were Yahowah's control group, separated from the guiles of debilitating notions. In this way, they serve as witnesses, as examples of what life is like united with or separated from God. Unfortunately for Jews, it hasn't been a pretty picture. But at least for some, that is about to change.

Continuing to expound upon the worst of human behavior, Yahowah added...

“There shall not be found (lo' matsa' – there shall not be encountered, detected, or discovered) among you (ba 'atah) one causing his son or daughter to pass over and perish ('abar ben huw' wa bath huw' – a person having their child cross over and cease to exist, sacrificed) in a fire (ba ha 'esh – in the flames), someone predicting the future based upon pagan religious notions (qasam qasam – believing false prophets, responding to conspiratorial suggestions, forming opinions based upon religious concepts, consulting with the dead and trusting saints), a person who obscures the truth and believes in spiritualism (wa 'anan – a person who makes decisions based upon appearances or astrology, acts covertly, believes in casting spells, and clouding over), or one who tempts and charms others (wa nachash – one who offers deceptive precepts and false prognostications, an enchanter who cannot prove their position using evidence or reason, someone who is serpentine and toxic), an individual who entices and seduces people to worship and pray (wa kashaph – the corrupting influence, deceptive religious rites, rituals, and beliefs), (Dabarym 18:10) one who joins in and binds together by forming political or religious alliances (wa chabar cheber – one who charms others into leaguering together and forming a religion, one who fascinates with eloquence, creating a spellbinding fellowship), one who is obsessed with ghosts, makes requests of saints, or speaks on behalf of dead souls (sha'al 'owb – someone who prefers and seeks Sha'uwl's | Paul's advice on being spiritual, a spiritualist or Gnostic who asks about and questions the deceased, an obsession with wizards, or ancestor worship), a con man who beguiles in association with demonic spirits (yida'ony – a schemer who influences based upon his personal knowledge of and relationship with evil spirits, one overly familiar with agony and anguish, intimately acquainted with demons and death), or one who causes the premature death of others in association with a destructive plague (wa darash 'el ha muwth – one who resorts to killing, hellish tortures, wanton destruction, and body counts, insisting that those who oppose them are destroyed and die). (Dabarym 18:11)

For indeed (ky), all who engage in and act upon (kol 'asah – everyone who does) these things ('eleh) are an abomination, considered abhorrent and detestable (tow'ebah – are seen as repulsive, loathed to the point of absolute intolerance, viewed as idolatrous and disgusting) to Yahowah (YaHoWaH).

And so as a consequence of this repulsive religious excrement (wa ba galal tow'ebah ha 'eleh – on account of this abhorrent political dung, because of their detestable feces, for the express reason of this abominable bullshit, and as a result of this filthy idolatrous crap), Yahowah (YaHoWaH – our 'elawah | God as directed in His ToWRaH | teaching regarding His HaYaH | existence and our ShaLoWM | restoration), your God ('elohym 'atah), will drive them out, dispossess them, and destroy them (yarash 'eth hem – He will impoverish them by taking everything away, their lives, lands, and possessions) from your presence (min paneh 'atah – from appearing around you).” (Dabarym / Words / Deuteronomy 18:12)

So after Yahowah says, “Don't engage in dispicable ways of the gowym” He lists specifics as to what the gowym have done and says, “I don't want you doing this stuff.”

While there are hints of politics, this list is otherwise entirely religious. Therefore, by way of His introduction and conclusion, we have yet another affirmation that Yahowah abhors what people have been led to believe.

God is opposed to human sacrifice, appeasing gods, misleading children, religious prophets, dishonesty, spiritualism, and anything which is in conflict with evidence and reason. He loathes those who encourage prayer and worship as well as anyone who forms religious and political alliances. Judaism's reverence for deceased rabbis, Christianity's affinity for saints, and Islam's devotion to martyrs are abominations to God. Yahowah abhors those who beguile His people, especially when they are speaking for the Lord. He is revolted by these things because they are murderous – depriving Jews, Christians, and Muslims of knowing Him, their freedom, and their lives.

Misappropriating a fear of death and pretending to speak on behalf of the departed is the stick-and-carrot approach of religion. For most of human history, any opposition to religious authority led to a quick and torturous death. And to demonstrate that the clerics determined who lived and died, the priests chose who they would sacrifice to their gods. Then for the compliant, there was the promise of victory in war, bountiful crops, and life after death.

The religious institutions responsible for English Bible translations and lexicons don't much like the idea that God is undermining their sanctified turf, so we find definitions such as “divination, sorcerer, soothsayer, occultist, magicians, and necromancers” attributed to each of these terms in their dictionaries. To believe them, it is as if God was preoccupied with Satan worship. Be assured that is not the message.

A meaningless percentage of people openly worship Satan as the Adversary. However, the majority of people have been beguiled into worshipping the Devil as if he were God. Therefore, the problem God is addressing does not pertain to the miniscule numbers of sorcerers, occultists, magicians, witches, or wizards but, instead, the imposition of institutionalized religion.

For example, Yahowah’s complaint begins by opposing the common and tragic practice of priests sacrificing children to appease their gods and terrorizing the masses into submission. The objects of the offering were always false gods and not the Devil. From there, Yahowah condemns false prophets who lay the foundation for religious tyranny by fraudulently attributing their mythology to the culture’s most revered ancestors. Continuing to expose the likes of Paul, Akiba, and Muhammad, He says that their beliefs are in conflict with evidence and reason and, thus, designed to entice the foolish through faith.

God is chastising the saints and the sages, the apostles and the messengers of the gods, any and all who have obscured the truth. He is opposed to the Gnostic notions and the cult of death which underlie Christianity in addition to the murderous nature of Islam. Qasam, ‘anan, nachash, kashaph, and chabar, which are the terms that were in this last statement, all speak of the misrepresenting the truth, of misconstruing and twisting God’s message to impose oppressive and binding religious schemes, especially those which control people by integrating religion and politics.

Yahowah is condemning those who captivate and betray, who deliberately denigrate the masses in the name of their alter egos. He is no friend of those who promote conspiracies, consider themselves spiritual, who are irrational and easily seduced. God loathes those who are overtly religious and prefer the fellowship of the faithful.

God is impugning everyone who offers the hope of life after death to believers. And specifically, Yahowah is opposed to Sha’uwl | Paul, the Gnostic who inspired and wrote most of the Christian New Testament based upon the pagan myth of a dying and resurrected god, advancing spiritualism over reality. Since he and his ilk were possessed by demons, their rhetoric is overly fixated on agony and anguish. They are responsible for the deaths of countless billions. Their views are infections, spreading like a plague of death.

While this list is condemning Judaism and Christianity, it is also lethal to Islam. According to the Qur’an, Allah spends his days in hell tormenting infidels with the “entertainment of burning.” The capricious promise of deliverance from “Hell Fire” is the Qur’an’s single most repetitive rant with a thousand variations. But be advised, what pleases Allah is an abomination to Yahowah.

The Islamic Hadith tells us that Muhammad’s father was saved by the “use of divination” arrows, another abomination. These same sources explain that Islam’s prophet “cast lots” to determine the order in which his militants could pick Jewish slave girls to possess and rape.

‘Anan lies at the heart of Muhammad’s deadly deception. During one of his terrorist raids against a Jewish community, Muhammad said, “I have been sent with the shortest expressions bearing the widest meanings, and I have been made victorious with terror, and while I was sleeping, the keys of the treasures of the world were brought to me and put in my hand.” Bukhari, Volume 4, Book 52, Number ‘Anan is the mother’s milk of politics, the essence of religion. ‘Anan means “to cloud the atmosphere sufficiently to block light and diminish visibility.” In politics, perceptions become reality as professional liars spin the facts, cloud the issue, and obscure their actual agenda. In the arena of egos, the most prideful weave an enchanting tale while their operatives cover up the harsh and unflattering realities that lie beneath.

I had a long talk with one of the most despicable people in America, Jen Psaki, the outgoing press secretary for the President. She has just wrapped her arms around the most vile thing I have ever seen or heard, yet the President, always devious of people, has decided to hire the first black openly homosexual press secretary. This woman is an utter nincompoop, but compared to his vice presidential choice she is brilliant. That's not much of a comparison. She is a one-trick pony. America to her is racist depriving her and every one of her race and sexual preference of opportunity. Mind you, she was educated in the Ivy League, her tuition paid by the public. She has been given one of the top jobs in America, but nonetheless, you are to believe that she has been prejudiced against. She has nothing to offer, her every word is insane, and yet she wants to blame prejudice for her holding this office and being educated in an Ivy League school, being accepted over someone who was vastly more qualified. We ... You just can't make this stuff up.

We're out declaring war against Russia, fighting a proxy war by sending 50 billion dollars worth of weapons to the Ukraine so they can kill Russians and we're naming Putin as the aggressor. The overwhelming majority of Americans believe that Putin is the bad guy and we're the peacemakers. It was like taunting Russia and telling Russia that the Ukraine is going to be part of NATO which is a military pact aimed at Russia that this war was started, and we're the pacifists? All he said is, “I won't invade if you stop sending weapons to the Ukraine and don't make them part of NATO. What did we do? ... so excited that the Ukraine wants to be part of NATO that we send them 50 billion dollars worth of advanced weapons and kill Russians. Okay. We are the peacemakers. We can keep on telling ourselves that right to our grave.

Religion, like its illegitimate brother, politics, is all about swindlers obscuring the truth. A cloud forms over the people which is so dense, visibility is diminished to near blindness. The abomination of ‘anan’ explains how faulty rhetoric clouds the mind, rendering its victims unable to think clearly or rationally.

Nachash, the same Hebrew word that is used for serpent and toxic, is also central to many forms of satanic deception. Muhammad openly consulted soothsayers. His Qur'an is filled with astrology as Allah swears by the constellations, the sun, and the moon. These concepts form the basis of the Qur'an's last two surahs, which are whispering odes to Satan.

Muhammad is shown throughout the Islamic Hadith practicing magic and dealing with spells, but it was his “chabar cheber” eloquence that made his message so lethal. I offer this twist on Muhammad’s favored occupation as a confession: “The Prophet said, ‘I have been given the keys of eloquent speech and given victory with terror.’” (Bukhari:V9B87N127) He spoke these words during his final terrorist raid as he looted Christians at the periphery of the Byzantine Empire for the first time.

Chabar is politicized religion. To chabar is to bind. Merriam-Webster tells us that the English word “religion” is based upon the Latin religare, “to bind and restrain.” In the context of this list, and as an adjunct to kashaph and chabar, it confirms that God is intolerant of religion and politics because they are used to confuse and control His people – something the foremost advocate of liberty and reason finds wholly unacceptable. And that’s a sobering thought.

Yahowah has drawn a line in the sand. You can either side with Him or with the oppressive and deadly nature of religion and politics. On one side of this divide, you will find a solitary door which leads to a personal relationship based upon love, truth, light, and life. On the other, mankind is found groping in the darkness of religion and wallowing in the deception of politics. Your choice.

Many will chafe at the realization that God is intolerant. Societal conditioning makes it difficult for believers to accept that Yahowah is repulsed by the religious and political, the militant and conspiratorial. And yet, even with the life He gave them, they are free to reject Him and His offer.

Today I heard a quote from Nancy Pelosi. It's amazing how overtly stupid America's leading politicians are. She was on the House floor, she is the Speaker of the House. I'm not going to condemn her because she's old; I'm not exactly young anymore, but she is way too old to hold public office. She says in a speech she's giving, "The reason we need to arm and send these weapons to the Ukraine is because that terrible dictator in Russia is trying to starve the world. Jesus said, 'Because you fed them you are mine' so we need to oppose that dictator that is trying to starve the world." Yes, Jesus would have us send missiles to the Ukraine because the Ukraine was feeding them, I guess. She said, "You will find that quotation in Matthew." Little does she know that Matthew was written by an absolute fraud.

The world is going to starve as a result of this administration's stupidity and the politicians in the Republican Party...because we decided we wanted to go to war against Russia and sanction Russia, we have caused severe food shortages around the world and driven up the price of living and food enormously. It's our fault and yet we think the solution is to send more missiles.

You ask any politician, "What's the endgame here, and what are you trying to achieve?" They will respond that they are going to replace Putin who is the bad guy here. You're telling us that you are "pro democratic" and that you're going to go to a democratic country where the people overwhelmingly support and voted for Putin, and you want to go to that country and you want regime change in that country just like you did in the Ukraine when you replaced the elected government with the one sponsored by the Neo nazis. That was America's doing too. So you want regime change in Russia, to hell with what the Russians want, and you're going to not even think about who you're going to get to replace him? We tried this game in Vietnam, in Libya, Iraq, Afghanistan, in China against Chiang Kai-shek, and in Russia and what did we get? Worse. Every time America plays this game we get worse. So if you continue to do the same thing and expect a different result, what are you? An absolute, uniformed nincompoop. And that is the nature of the United States of America, most of Europe, and most of the world. We've become collectively stupid.

There is no end game here. We started a war, which is not ordinary war. This is a war where the United States, which has the second most nuclear weapons in the world, sending weapons and declaring they want regime change, they want to eliminate the military using a proxy of the nation with the most nuclear weapons. Let's say you are successful, you kill a gazillion Russians, you wipe out much of the Russian infantry and airforce. Let's say you do that. Do you think Putin and the Russians are going to say they are sorry that they allowed us to kill them, that they want to beg our forgiveness for us having sent all those weapons to wipe them out, that they feel badly that we led a propaganda war against them, that they are so sorry that they will crawl in a hole and starve to death based upon all our sanctions? No! There is a zero percent chance of that. These nincompoops couldn't think it through and recognize that the only possible outcome is world war and nuclear confrontation. That's the only possibility - world wide famon, revolution, the trashing of people's savings, making their lives miserable, the death of truth, and great irreversable constraints on the access to information. So what are we going to do? We're going to now have Finland become part of ... yes, that's swell.

And we call ourselves peacemakers. Where are the democrats when we want regime change and we send 50 billion dollars worth of weapons to the Ukraine, which is supporting a government that anybody in their right mind knew was the least responsible, most graft oriented in the world. They are the government that consistently welched on their loans from the IDF, the World Bank, and even from the Russians, and yet we made them out to be saints. This is the country that has the highest percentage of armed Neo nazis of any country in the world and yet we present them as freedom fighters. No wonder we're sponsoring the "Two State Solution" for Israel. Stupid is as stupid does.

I recognize the world is devolving quickly, man is denegrating themselves at unprecedented rates. There is the death of truth, the death of honest effort, of personal responsibility and of peaceful coexistence. We are in a period of a death spiral exactly what Yahowah had predicted, and it is going to transpire exactly as He had forewarned.

All we can say is that if you want to know God you need to get your act together in a hurry. If you are a Jew / Yahuwd, you need to understand what that name means, what Yahowah's name means, what's at stake and how much time you have left. If I were you I would begin by reading the three volumes of An Introduction to God and then the six current volumes of Yada Yahowah to come to understand exactly what the Covenant is comprised of and what transpired in 'Eden because that's where we're headed, come to understand the purpose of each of the seven Mow'ed Miqra'ey. And then read Observations so that you understand God's animosity toward religion followed by Coming Home to gain an appreciation for who the returning Messiah really is, who is the Son of God, the King of Kings, who is the Shepherd, because it isn't that other guy that you dismiss and besmirch, the fellow who has been misnamed "Jesus Christ." He's not the Son of God; he's not the Messiah. He's not returning. He was the Passover Lamb and his name was Yahowsha'. The Son of God, the Messiah, the King of Kings, the one who is returning with Yahowah, the one who is the central individual in God's story, the one whose life and lyrics are the most important that will ever be, the one who is going to be spoken of in this very prophecy is Dowd, who you have mislabeled David and who you have afforded a star which is a pagan symbol, something that he will abolish upon his return. I can assure you that if there is a flag for the State of Yisra'el upon Yahowah's return, it will not be a star; a Menowrah, Yahowah's name or "Yisra'el" written perhaps, or Yahuwd, Towrah, Beryth / Covenant, Mow'ed or Miqra'ey perhaps, but it sure as hell will not be a star of David.

We are into page 17 or 18 in this chapter and it is an interesting story. I learned a lot from doing it and I think it is highly educational explaining exactly what God is looking for, which is how He began, what He doesn't want us to do, which is where He is, and then this remarkable prophecy about who God is sending and why and what he is going to be like. It's a great story.

So may Yah bless. We look forward to being with you at this time next week. Kirk, thank you very much for helping. Good night.
