Mizmowr 89:19 - 21

Please Note: I have transcribed this to the best of my ability. Sound bites of parties speaking simultaneously and those inaudible to me have been deleted from the transcript. If I guessed at a word, it was followed by a ()? A ___ (blank line) indicates I could not understand the word or phrase and three periods ... indicate an interruption in the dialogue of one party by another. Thank you for your understanding. MK

Good evening and welcome to Yada Yah Radio. I'm here with Kirk and Dee.

The first news item is rather a shocker by the Jerusalem Post. I have publicly declared that there is no reasonable way to account for the coronavirus coming out of Wuhan as a blend of HIV, Ebola, and the Sars virus with a vastly more sophisticated gain of function mechanism that caused it to be more virulent in the sense that it would attach itself to human cells better than any standard form of virus when the Wuhan Institute of Virology was doing research which was published on all of these things than to assume it was a lab accident. That is the only informed and rational answer.

I certainly was not expecting what I read in the Jerusalem Post. It reads:

“China deliberately engineered the coronavirus virus as a "bioweapon,” a Wuhan Institute of Virology researcher claimed this week in an interview conducted by Chinese-born human rights activist and author Jennifer Zeng.

Researcher Chao Shao asserts that the virus was deliberately engineered by China as a "bioweapon," and that his colleagues were tasked with identifying the most effective strain for spreading among various species, including people,” which is why they were experimenting with HIV, Ebola and SARS.

“During the exclusive 26-minute interview, Chao Shao shared an anecdote involving another researcher named Shan Chao, who allegedly admitted to being provided with four strains of coronavirus by a superior.

Shan Chao was instructed to test these strains and determine which one had the greatest potential to infect multiple species, with a particular emphasis on human infectivity.

Chao Shao also made sure to mention that several of his colleagues went missing during the 2019 Military World Games held in Wuhan.” Actually, many went missing including the first to blow the whistle on the involvement of the Virology Institute, who was deliberately killed by the Chinese government. Many of those who worked in the lab were among the first to die.

“According to him, one of the missing individuals revealed that they were sent to hotels accommodating athletes during the 2019 Military World Games held in Wuhan at that time,” which is why the Chinese government tried to obfuscate responsibility by blaming the United States Military. “They revealed that they were sent to two hotels accommodating the Military athletes from various countries to allegedly "check the health or hygiene conditions." However, Chao Shao suspected that these actions were unrelated to virology research and suggested that they were potentially involved in spreading the virus’ spread to study its effect on humans.

Additionally, Chao Shao disclosed that in April 2020, he was sent to Xinjiang to assess the health status of Uyghur prisoners held in the re-education camps, ostensibly to expedite their release.” And yet, he says it was actually with the intent to expose them and to facilitate the virus’ spread to study its effect on humans.

The Jerusalem Post concludes by saying,

“While these revelations are both astonishing and deeply concerning, Chao Shao emphasized that they represent only a fraction of the entire puzzle.”

Isn’t that a shocking story.

The next story is also quite shocking. On Tuesday the Centers for Disease Control released health statistics that indicate that fifteen percent of America’s children aged five to seventeen are currently receiving treatment for mental health conditions. Adolescents showed the worst numbers in the data with almost twenty percent of children aged twelve to seventeen receiving mental health treatment, therapy, counseling, or prescription medication. Now that is frightening. One out of every five young people in America is receiving psychiatric treatment for mental illness. And you don’t think that we as a nation are cooked? Well, let me tell you, that is for certain.

Over forty million Americans have unpaid student debt totaling about one half trillion dollars. Joe Biden decided we want to set up the very strategy that will be used as a great reset, when your currency becomes useless because these nimrods continue to spend money that the country does not have. He sponsored legislation to forgive all student debt. Now that says that if you worked to pay for your education, well too bad for you. If you had a parent that was responsible and saved to pay for your education, too bad for them because if you have the government pay for your education you don't need to pay them back. It was one of the most disgraceful things ever proposed by a U S president. Fortunately, the Supreme Court tossed it out. It was a very bad week for Liberals. So, there is no longer any potential for Biden's debt forgiveness on student loans.

Earlier in the same week the Supreme Court ruled that race-based college admissions at Harvard University and the University of North Carolina were unlawful ending affirmative action programs at colleges across the United States. This is something that has screamed for the Supreme Court to do the obvious for twenty years. There is a zero percent chance that race-based admissions is constitutional but I guess if you're promoting something that the Progressives hold dear then the Supreme Court can make decisions that are contrary to the Constitution, and yet Ketanji Brown Jackson, the newbie Black woman who was put on the Court solely because, according to Joe Biden, she was a black woman, said she called that ruling 'let them eat cake obliviousness.' The newest member of the Supreme Court evidently not only can't define and describe what a woman is, she is unfamiliar with the U S Constitution. What a disgusting comment.

What affirmative action says is that you are too incompetent, you are strictly as a function of your race unable to compete. Therefore, we need to lower the hurdles for you while we raise the hurdles for everyone else and only then can the system be fair to you because you're incompetent. It's one of the most disgusting ways to treat people. There's no difference in the intellectual capacity of people from different races. We can all read the same materials, we can all devote ourselves equally to learning. There are no liabilities to education based upon the color of one's skin. It's disgusting to have race-based admissions into U S colleges as opposed to strictly merit-based admissions. The same thing is true with scholarships. They should be merit-based not race or gender-based. It was a good day for the Court; a very bad day for Progressives like the newbie on the Supreme Court that doesn't know she's there to render judgments on the U S Constitution.

Reuters published an article that says the U S Supreme Court striking down President Joe Biden's student loan forgiveness plan puts nearly half a trillion dollars of debt back on the household balance sheets. No. It was never off those balance sheets and it's not necessarily on household balance sheets. People borrowed money; it's half a trillion dollars and they need to pay it back. If you tell them that they don't need to pay this back, why should they pay their mortgage back or honor any debt that they have made? "It's a burden combined with the end of the pandemic era pause in payments on education loans that will hasten an anticipated year-end economic slowdown." What idiots.

Speaking of idiots there's a black woman who likes to point her finger. She has short curly hair about one-half inch long with a bright red mohawk design down the center. She is a member of San Francisco's Reparation Committee which is demanding that the city's black inhabitants receive many millions of dollars in compensation for slavery even though none of them were slaves nor were their parents, grandparents or great grandparents slaves. She said this week that straight white men are a danger to society. If you said black men are a danger to society and you backed it up by showing that according to the Department of Justice young black men are about eight times more likely to commit a violent crime, you would be labeled a racist and even though straight white men commit a disproportionately small number of violent crimes nonetheless according to this Progressive idiot, Nicole Cunningham, they are a danger to society. She claims that institutionalized racism is ingrained within the system. I'm here to tell you that racism, black on white racism and white on black racism, was a serious problem particularly the way that Blacks were treated in the 1920s, 30s, and 40s. As a matter of fact, from the end of the Civil War after Blacks were emancipated the opportunities they were given to work and the way they were treated was flat out wrong. Slavery was flat out wrong. As it relates to slavery, we have to put it in context. There isn't a single black person that was brought to America that was enslaved by a white person; a hundred percent of them were enslaved by fellow Blacks in Western Africa and a hundred percent of those were traded to Muslims and then offered for payment by European shipping companies; that's just the truth of it.

The fact is that since the 1960s America, for the last sixty years, has been the most upwardly mobile society in the history of humankind. Almost all ancient civilizations and really every place even through the Holy Roman Empire in Europe, was based on a caste system where there was no mobility upward for anyone within that system and slavery in that system was rampant around the world for 6,000 years. The first legitimate experiment in total upward mobility regardless of one's ethnicity or any other factor is the United States of America. Never has there been a greater opportunity for people of all ethnicities to rise than has existed in this country in the last sixty years. So, to advocate the opposite of that shows that you have no intelligence, that you're wholly ignorant and completely irrational.

You are probably aware of the cop killing in France. A young African man with a history of avoiding arrests, who would be pulled over for traffic violations and find it fun to speed away while risking the lives of those who were trying to hold him accountable, did it again. This time, because they knew who he was, the French police held him at gunpoint. It didn't matter to this young man. He sped off anyway. Unfortunately, one of the two officers fired his gun because he was afraid that this man was going to kill him with his vehicle.

So, the French responded by rioting, attacking the police, burning buildings and cars, not unlike Black Lives Matter protests rallying around someone as despicable as George Floyd. This kid I don't think was nearly as bad as George Floyd. There's no reason to believe that he pistol-whipped a pregnant woman or that he was in and out of jail regularly for substance abuse or that he was on Fentanyl and other drugs at the time of his arrest, but like Floyd he resisted arrest. To have people riot and burn other people's property as a response shows you how far the world has fallen.

In Iraq the Swedish Embassy was ransacked because of a protest in Sweden. Protesters, disgusted by the problems associated with the Muslims from Syria, Afghanistan, and Libya who have been accepted into their country as a result of the European Union's initiative to bring in millions of Muslim refugees from the very countries that were impossible to live in because they were infected with Islam, burned the Quran, which is probably the second best thing you could do with one; it is trash, the worst book ever written. It's a book that tells good Muslims to kill and torture non-Muslims, yet burning it is so aggravating to Muslims that they must riot and threaten to kill. There's something deeply disturbing about that kind of religion. If somebody was to say they want to burn the Towrah, okay have at it, I don't care. You're not burning the copy I'm reading. If you choose to burn it rather than read it, that's your choice. Personally, I think the smart thing to do with the Quran is to read the damn thing so you can know why ninety-five percent of the world's terrorists are good Muslims.

The psychiatric profile of the shooter, Robert Bowers, who killed eleven Jews in a synagogue in late October 2018 in Pittsburgh is now up for trial. Of those he gunned down he thought that he should be honored in parades because by killing Jews he was saving Gentiles from being annihilated by them. Imagine how stupid you would have to be to believe with all evidence exactly the opposite of Gowym for the past 3,500 years enslaving and murdering Jews by the millions, that it was actually Jews who were murdering Gentiles. It's astonishing that somebody would promote or kill for such a myth, but the opposite of what is true is very popular to the point that this idiot thought he should have parades in his honor.

Remember when the alleged Chinese spy balloon crossed America and all the politicians were condemning China for having a spy balloon and how just a matter of weeks ago when Joe Biden was trying to reset relationships with Xi by sending his Secretary of State and warmonger to China to reset all this and he called Xi a dictator? Well, in that same speech he said the reason he called him a dictator was because he was aware that there were train cars in volume of spy equipment on that alleged spy balloon. I just mocked everybody and said there is a zero percent possibility that the Chinese are using a damn balloon to spy on America when they have satellites. You'd have to be again a nincompoop to believe this. And yet all the media ran with it, the president continued to talk about it, and politicians for both sides condemned China for it. Well, the report came out finally after months of analysis on the wreckage of the Chinese spy balloon. Pentagon spokesman Brigadier General Patrick Writer said that it did not collect any information while it was transitioning the United States. The spy balloon did not spy on America. Welcome to the Twilight Zone.

The United States now has a real pickle. The United States has spent about 150 billion dollars sending all matter of weapons to the Ukraine to wage a proxy war to kill Russians, and it isn't going very well. So, this new offensive is disastrous. The solution is to just say, okay, Ukraine, you'll not be part of NATO, why don't we just call it quits. The Russian territories that don't want to be part of Ukraine can stay with Russia and the part that wants to be independent will not be part of NATO, will not be part of the European Union, and we're not going to rebuild the damn thing but at least we'll have the Russians agree not to capture it. Easy-peasy. The war's over. Not this administration. They've decided to send what the United States has heretofore called a "secret Black Ops weapon," ATACMS missiles to the Ukraine that have long range capability. So, now the Ukrainians can kill Russians at a great distance. How many times must America do this before Russia's only sane response is to attack America with the only tool that it has available in its arsenal - a nuclear weapon. We're asking for our own funeral.

We were talking before the show that Israel is the only country on Earth that is routinely condemned for building homes. Today the Australians, the British, and the UN condemned Israel for building homes. They claim that by building homes Israel is the one who is responsible for Islamic terrorism. Israel is also the only nation that is condemned for defending itself against terrorism and yet the last time I checked Yisra'el was the homeland of the Jewish people.

Recently a study was done by Professor Yosef Garfinkel which examined all of the earliest fortified sites in the Kingdom of Yahuwdah during the 10th Century BCE. The reason for this is all the nimrods that pretend to be really smart as scholars at Hebrew University and elsewhere claimed that the kingdom of Yahuwdah and the United Yisra'el did not exist until the 8th Century, 300 years after King Dowd's death. Guess what. Oopsie, we screwed up. There was a United Yisra'el and a very vibrant Yahuwdah with all sorts of intrinsic governing mechanisms right back to the time of Dowd. Once again, the archaeologist's spade has turned scholars into nincompoops.

This is really the news brought to you by nincompoops. I'm trying not to speak of myself.

The European Parliament Committee this week called for a war crimes charge against Israel. MEP Evin Incir of the Swedish Social Democrats spearheaded the measure which passed with 41 in favor, 24 opposed and nine abstentions. The European Parliament's Foreign Affairs Committee called for the EU to help the International Criminal Court to prosecute Israel for war crimes in a resolution on EU-Palestinian relations. Yes indeed. So, the Fakastinians can terrorize Jews but when Jews seek to preclude them killing Jews, they have committed a war crime. Good luck with that.

That's all the news that's fit for presentation, but I wanted to keep you abreast of what's happening around the world.

We're returning to Mizmowr at 89:15. Mizmowr 89 is the Cornerstone of Yahowah's Covenant home and is the single most important declaration apart from the Towrah ever provided. It is the death knell for Christianity even though Christians lug it around in their bibles. It is a death knell for Judaism because they are opposed to the idea of Dowd being the Son of God, the Messiah who is returning and most certainly against him serving as the Passover Lamb. The 89th Mizmowr not only affords us with a score of accolades attributable to Dowd but also acknowledges his achievements in fulfilling the Mow'ed Miqra'ey and it is unquestionable that Dowd and not anyone else is the Son of God, the Messiah, the King, the Zarowa', Passover Lamb, and yet none of the scholars and sages of Judaism over the past 3,000 years, not one of them, has come to acknowledge the truth and, of course, they don't want you to know the truth if you're a Jew because, well frankly, they can't control you with their Talmud. They can't control you with Judaism if they told you the truth because the truth is eminently destructive to the credibility of the Talmud and to Judaism because in Judaism the Messiah is unknown, God cannot have a son, the Miqra'ey have not been fulfilled, and in Judaism there isn't even a Miqra' of Matsah for Dowd or anyone to have fulfilled. They are far more committed to having the star of Bar Kokhba on their flags and on their Kippahs than they are to letting the Chosen People know the truth that is essential for their salvation. So, the message of the 89th Mizmowr is not just the Cornerstone of Yahowah's home it is a grinding stone that has been placed on the top of the world's religions, particularly Judaism and Christianity.

To begin where we left off last week, Yahowah made it possible for Dowd to serve as the Pesach 'Ayil and then to fulfill Matsah enroute to the celebration of Shabuw'ah. This occurred in year 4000 Yah, 33 CE on our Roman pagan calendars, facilitating the benefits of the Covenant. He would enable Yisra'elites to become immortal, to have their souls become perfect, to become enriched, empowered and adopted members of God's family. And because He has done this, we have become the living expression of Taruw'ah | Trumpets, the fifth Miqra' which no one celebrates today other than those who are in Yahowah's Covenant family because Jews have corrupted it to become Rosh Hashanah. And yet our purpose is to serve as Heralds of Dowd's Yowm Kipurym return.

“Delighted to show the way because blessed (‘ashry – happy to reveal the proper path to the relationship and treated favorably; from ‘asher – enjoying the benefits of the relationship by having been shown the steps to walk to get the most out of life and ‘any – me) are the people (ha ‘am – are the family members) who are aware of and acknowledge (yada’ – who are familiar and acquainted with, who learn about and make known, who comprehend and understand) Taruw’ah (Taruw’ah – Trumpets, the 5th of 7 Miqra’ey, time to expose corruptions while sharing the truth, crying out an alarm and shouting for joy, blowing the showphar to announce the upcoming harvest of souls and Dowd’s return), who walk (halak – who choose as a way of living to continually travel about, exploring and moving (piel imperfect paragogic – by continually choosing to walk with Him, Yahowah becomes engaged and active with that individual)) with the light into Your presence (ba ‘owr paneh ‘atah – along with and within this enlightenment into Your shining brilliance, appearance, and face), Yahowah (Yahowah).” (Mizmowr / Lyrics to Sing / Psalm 89:15)

This is who we are. It is what we do. It is what we know. And the more we learn as Taruw'ah's Troubadours, the more we realize that we are not only following in Dowd's footsteps as he fulfilled the first four Mow'edym, but we also are announcing his return on Kipurym.

Dowd isn't just the person coming back to fulfill Kipurym, he just doesn't have two lives, he has three. He was here to fulfill Pesach, Matsah, Bikuwrym, and Shabuw'ah.

And this is what we experience, especially when we are enlightened by Dowd's Mizmowr, many of which serve as the ultimate expression of Taruw'ah. This is what we learn from the lyrics and life of Yahowah's Chosen. It is through the lens and the reverberations of the trumpet of Taruw'ah, the Showphar, that we come to appreciate the balance shown in his writings between blasting away at religious lies and trumpeting the truth, both of which are needed when the mission is to lead Yahuwdym out of Babylon and into Yahowah's presence.

Over the course of the past twenty-two years, for us there have been many goose-bump moments, times in which we have found ourselves reveling in what can be learned. This clearly is one of them when it is announced that there is a celebration at this time of advancing the purpose of Taruw'ah and it is a time that we value "yada – knowing" what it is like to "halak – walk" "ba 'owr paneh – with the light into the presence" of Yahowah.

Everything we have written and spoken these past 22 years is an expression of Taruw'ah, as we have striven to celebrate its purpose. We have sought to shout out a warning, boldly, bluntly, clearly, and loudly telling all who would listen that their religious and political affiliations put them at odds with God. At the same time, we have, as accurately and completely as we are able, shared what Yahowah has had to say about Himself, explaining what He is offering and expects in return. This is the essence of Taruw'ah – the very reason we are asked to celebrate it on the first day of the seventh month each year.

I also think it's important to recognize the fact that it is because of 'asher in 2 Shamuw'el 7 that we came to yada' | know all of this. It is the halak | path we walked with the 'owr | light we were given into the very presence of Yahowah, our God. And yet here it appears again in Mizmowr | Psalm 89:15. It transitions from comparing Yahowah to Dowd to celebrating our calling and purpose. One thing has led to another, all pivoting on this most unique of Hebrew words – 'asher.

Since Yahowah has heightened our awareness of Taruw'ah, and since we have come to appreciate more than anyone what it represents in our lives and in the lives of Yahowah's People, we can come a little closer to ascertaining the timing of all of this.

If you recall, those who have read all these books and as an update, we began by rewriting the Babel series to accommodate the reality that there was no Yahowsha', that Dowd had fulfilled the first four Mow'ed Miqra'ey. Our next project was to rewrite Coming Home; we have subsequently rewritten Volumes I and II. Then we rewrote all three volumes of An Introduction to God to correctly present what Father and Son have done to redeem and reconcile Yahowah's People. I'm now 200 pages into the first volume of Yada Yahowah. So, we're making considerable headway through this project and will continue to work at it until we've gone all the way through not only Observations and Questioning Paul after completing the entire Yada Yahowah Series, but then we'll do a quick review of the series that will be republished on our site called God Damn Religion which will re-present Tea with Terrorists and Prophet of Doom. So, that's where we are on that project.

For those who have read through the volumes of Observations, it was there that we came to realize that Taruw'ah would be fulfilled after Yisra'el is thinned at the waist in an ill-fated attempt to trade land for peace in what's called the two-state solution, and yet before the worst of Ya'aqob's Troubles. In fact, Kirk, you and I talked before the show as to what that quiet period is going to be when the Set-Apart Spirit is no longer present here on Earth and there are no witnesses. It's our best judgment that while the Taruw'ah Harvest could happen any time from Taruw'ah in 2026 through 2029, it's our conviction the later the better and therefore we are anticipating that the Taruw'ah Harvest to be on Taruw'ah, the first day of the seventh month in 2029, and the arrival of the two Witnesses will occur on Pesach, the fourteenth day of 'Abyb in 2030 which means there will be six months of radio silence, if you will, from the Covenant family and from anyone directly related to Yahowah. So, that's the time that we're talking about here.

It appears that while the time of Ya'aqob's Troubles could be dated to the Fall of 202__.

Yada loses connection.

DEE: I think we've lost our host, so do you have any comments on what Craig was telling you regarding Taruw'ah before the podcast? I'm curious.

KIRK: I asked him about the radio silence period. He made the remark about it'll be quiet, and I wasn't sure. I said how will the people that are left behind find us? We're kind of everywhere now so if you're looking, you'll find this information. Things just don't disappear from the internet anymore. You can try to erase it, I guess if you want; somebody might. So few people are interested in this which just boggles the mind, that I'm amazed that there's not thousands and thousands. That's a very small number to begin with out of eight billion people on the planet. English is the language of the world and just about anyone could find someone who could read this to them as well if they were interested and certainly with all the scholarship of people who've written all the lexicons and all this stuff and all the theologians not to at least explore the counter to their religion, I'm just shocked that it's not a big debate going on somewhere.

DEE: I agree. You would think people would be flocking to this material. It's so uplifting and positive. People think it's negative; it's like a beacon in the dark. I can't believe more people aren't flocking to it either.

KIRK: It's the most freeing thing you'll ever hear. Yahowah is so ___, it's like your grandfather saying come over to the house next week on the Sabbath and visit. Meet on these wonderful holidays or these wonderful festival feasts. I'm stunned at the pace at which Craig writes and puts this all together. I mean I'm just on the team, of course. What a gift to have. I'll get fired up and after about 12 to 15 hours I'm exhausted, and I haven't even read anything, I just studied it. But with all the material that's here to do it, I don't know what the trigger is. I used to talk a lot about triggers because it was interesting how you, I, and all the people that we know and have a chance to talk to any depth had something that triggered us. It just grabbed us to want to read this. I wish I knew what it was if there was some central theme that just grabbed them. So, surely Yahowah is not that interested in a whole lot of people.

DEE: Yahowah has a criterion of what He's looking for. To be open minded...

KIRK: You've got Christianity and this one is made up of Yahuwdaym and they don't know Yahowah's name, they quibble over it. If they pronounce it enough, which is a simple thing to pronounce, they don't want anything to do with Dowd. I'm just stunned by this. But I was stunned by his ten stories today. How stupid have we become? I don't understand the thing about the children, so many of them being drugged. We had children's classes when I had a rather large art school and I was amazed at how many of them were taking pills to calm them down so they can even sit there in an art class, and I'm going wow. So, do you want to reach them and ...

Yada re-establishes connection.

YADA: I called in on the phone because Blog Talk Radio failed us again. Moving to the next statement,

“In Your name (ba shem ‘atah) they rejoice (gyl – they celebrate these favorable circumstances, expressing their enthusiasm (qal imperfect paragogic)) every day (kol ha yowm – all the time).

These are the people who celebrate Taruw’ah.

And (wa) in Your justice and vindication, by being right (ba tsadaqah ‘atah – in You being correct, fair, and just, rightfully acquitting), they are lifted on high (ruwm – they rise, going to a higher elevation).” (Mizmowr / Lyrics to Sing / Psalm 89:16)

This is the Psalmist’s, and Yahowah inspired him, explanation for what happens to those who accept the terms and conditions of the Covenant when they become part of God’s family.

“Indeed (ky – because), the adornment (tiph’erth – the ornamentation, and beautiful appearance, comprising the splendor and Divine attributes) of their empowerment and fortification (‘oz hem) is Yours (‘atah).

By Your acceptance and approval (ba ratsown ‘atah – for Your pleasure and by You having chosen to favorably accept), our brilliantly illuminating horn (qaran ‘anachnuw – our illumination and source of light, our appearance as light, and our trumpet) is lifted up (ruwm – is raised and elevated as an extension from the source). (Mizmowr 89:17)

For (ky) our deliverance and protection (magen ‘anachnuw – our defense and shield) are from (la – pertain to) Yahowah (Yahowah). Accordingly (wa la – so therefore), the Qadowsh | Set-Apart One (qadowsh – the one who is distinct and separate from the rest, the one who is prepared and dedicated) of Yisra’el (Yisra’el – of Individuals who Engage and Endure with God) is our Melek | King (melek ‘anachnuw – is our leader, our royal ruler, our authorized authority, and our sovereign).” (Mizmowr / Lyrics to Sing / Psalm 89:18)

The insights here are straightforward. First, once we become part of Yahowah’s family we are adorned in a Garment of Light that is empowering, fortifying, protecting, and God gives it to His children.

Second, when we become part of the Covenant family and are accepted and approved in His company, God sees us as lifting up a brilliantly and illuminating horn which is equivalent to saying we celebrate the purpose of Taruw'ah. We lift the Showphar and fill it with enlightenment.

For (ky) our deliverance and protection (magen 'anachnuw – our defense and shield) are from (la – pertain to) Yahowah (Yahowah).

While that is true, Yahowah never works alone. Therefore,

Accordingly (wa la – so therefore), the Qadowsh | Set-Apart One (qadowsh – the one who is distinct and separate from the rest, the one who is prepared and dedicated) of Yisra'el (Yisra'el – of Individuals who Engage and Endure with God) is our Melek | King (melek 'anachnuw – is our leader, our royal ruler, our counselor, authorized authority, and our sovereign).” (Mizmowr / Lyrics to Sing / Psalm 89:18)

Never forget that the 89th Mizmowr is about Dowd. He is our King. If Dowd is not your leader and counselor and you don't recognize that he is the Qadowsh | Set-Apart One of Yisra'el (Yisra'el – of Individuals who Engage and Endure with God) then you're not part of the same family.

Having introduced us to Taruw'ah | Trumpets moments ago, we find God approving the brilliantly illuminating horns we will raise for the occasion. The instrument, comprised of a ram's horn, is called a Showphar. Its sound is so amazing, it reverberates within our souls.

There are lots of titles afforded Dowd, and this is one of them. There are very few things that are more distinguishing for a person or event than being called Qadowsh | Set-Apart One, and Dowd is the Set-Apart King, Counselor and Ruler of those who Engage and Endure with God. The things that are Qadowsh would include Covenant, the Mow'ed Miqra'ey and particularly Matsah, Yahowah's name, Yahuwdym, Yisra'el, the Towrah, all things that are set apart from the common things of man like religion and politics have the opportunity to be considered as set apart, particularly when distinguished as such by Yahowah.

Here Yahowah is continuing to tell us a wonderful love story.

“Therefore ('az – meanwhile then, in relation to this, and logically), You spoke (dabar – You communicated with words, promising and declaring) in a revelation (ba chazown – prophetically in a manner such that the intelligent would perceive by visually conveying an agreement) to (la – on behalf of) Your Bacharym | Chosen and Tested Ones (bachar – the ones selected, tried, and examined, preferred and found acceptable [from 4QPs versus ‘chasydy – faithful and devoted ones’ in the Masoretic Text]), saying (‘amar – expressing and claiming [from 4QPs]), ‘I have equated and bestowed (shawah – I have likened and offered) assistance, supplying what is needed (‘ezer – help and aid, enabling) on behalf of (‘al – for and upon) the Gibowr | Most Courageous and Capable Man (gibowr – the mightiest of men, the strong and effective fighter, the valiant and brave warrior, the one who battles; from gabar – to prevail, to be powerful, mighty, and strong, to prove one’s valor, and to be a champion for a virtuous cause).

Bacharym is plural and it speaks of those who are selected, tried and examined, preferred and found acceptable. We are being told here by the Psalmist that Yahowah specifically spoke in a revelation to him about the importance of his Bacharym – His Chosen and Tested Ones. And what He had to say about them is that, ‘I have equated and bestowed (shawah – I have likened and offered) assistance, supplying what is needed (‘ezer – help and aid, enabling) on behalf of (‘al – for and upon) the Gibowr | Most Courageous and Capable Man (gibowr – the mightiest of men, the strong and effective fighter, the valiant and brave warrior, the one who battles; from gabar – to prevail, to be powerful, mighty, and strong, to prove one’s valor, and to be a champion for a virtuous cause).

Your first thought when you read this, recognizing that Dowd was by far the most courageous and capable of all those associating with God, he is clearly the Gibowr. But why were the Chosen Ones being equated with bestowing assistance and supplying what was needed on behalf the Most Capable of all Men? Here’s the guy that wrote the most important prophecies in his Psalm that very few people recognize was a prophet.

Here's the man that volunteered to be their Savior fulfilling Pesach, opening the Doorway to Life, fulfilling Matsah, perfecting the souls of those who avail themselves of what he has done, fulfilling the very next day Bikuwrym which is where we were adopted into Yahowah’s family showing us the way home, becoming the ultimate Exemplar of Shabuw’ah, being enriched and empowered by God. And yet no one talks about it. Here was the most Capable and Competent Man of God – the Gibowr and virtually no one recognizes what he has done for us.

So, if you’re going to have Yisra’el return to Yahowah prior to the fulfillment of Yowm Kipurym in year 6000 Yah in 2033, the only way that’s going to happen is if Yahowah's Chosen and Tested Ones start working on behalf of the Gibowr and communicate to Yisra'el what he has done for us.

Gibowr is also a very important word because of the role it plays in the prophecy that unfortunately has been maligned to give rise to Christendom. Recognizing that the first six chapters of Daniel are pure rubbish, (Some may even be written in Aramaic, it's just religious rubbish. It's Babylon in Babylon) by the time you get to the ninth chapter, even into some of the revelations in the seventh chapter, while Daniel was not a prophet, Dowd was, and the person he called Gabry'el is a compound of Gibowr and 'El. And who is the Most Courageous and Capable Man of God | Gibowr 'El? Dowd. So, when you recognize that the Gibowr here is clearly identified with Dowd and that the title Gabry'el is the Most Capable and Courageous Man of 'El | God, then the person who is actually the prophet that Daniel, who is not a prophet is recording, is Dowd. So, Dowd as the Messiah is actually speaking of his fulfillment of all seven Mow'ed Miqra'ey in the introduction to his timeline where he says I'm going to do all this for Yisra'el which is the full spectrum of the benefits of the Mow'ed Miqra'ey, and to fulfill Pesach itself as the Mashyach | Messiah I'm going to arrive on precisely this day which was four days before Pesach as the Passover Lamb would be brought into their homes in year 4000 Yah, 33 CE. So, it was Dowd, the Messiah, speaking of what he as the Messiah would do. And one of the key ingredients to understanding that that is the nature of Daniel 9: 21-27 is a statement like this which equates Dowd as the Gibowr.

This term is also used in Yasha'yah 9 which equates Dowd to the Gibowr also telling us that Dowd is the Son, the child who was born and the Son who was given. Mizmowr 89:19 concludes with,

I have raised up and exalted (ruwm – I have elevated and lifted on high, taking action to empower) the Bachar | Chosen One (bachar – the one selected, tried, and tested, examined and found acceptable) from (min – out of) the people ('am – the family).” (Mizmowr / Lyrics to Sing / Psalm 89:19)

God is telling us that this Gibowr that is being raised up and will be exalted | ruwm is His Chosen One. He began this Mizmowr | Psalm by announcing that Dowd was His Chosen One. He tells us in 1st Shamuw'el | Samuel when He determines that Dowd is the person that He wants to anoint as the Messiah and whom the Spirit will come down on that He says I choose through a criterion that is very different than man's. There is only one that is labeled the Chosen One | Bachar by God and that is, again, Dowd.

It's important to recognize, and we've said this so many times, that God cannot work alone. That's not saying that God prefers to work with us; He really cannot work alone because the moment God works alone two things happen: One, He violates the prime objective which is to raise a family and work with us to engage with us. That is the prime objective. If He works alone, He is violating the prime objective. Then there's no purpose to Creation, there's no reason for us to even exist.

Secondly, because He promised Yisra'el that He wouldn't do it. The reason He promised Yisra'el that He would not communicate and act independently in their presence was that they were scared to death and the last thing He wanted to do was frighten them. You can't be a good dad if you frighten your kids. So, God cannot work alone.

The single most important thing God has to achieve in all of human history is to fulfill the Mow'ed Miqra'ey, and therefore He needed a person with whom He could work. So, it's the most important role any human would ever fill. Not only did He choose Dowd to be His Son, His Son literally volunteered to serve in this capacity and furnished an argument on behalf of him serving in this capacity that God Himself not only accepted but celebrated. So, this is why Yahowah says,

I have raised up and exalted (ruwm – I have elevated and lifted on high, taking action to empower) the Bachar | Chosen One (bachar – the one selected, tried, and tested, examined and found acceptable) from (min – out of) the people ('am – the family).” (Mizmowr / Lyrics to Sing / Psalm 89:19)

The 89th Mizmowr was written four years after Dowd's initial death, the first of three lives. The whole issue of Dowd being anointed Messiah and him being chosen, being anointed in the Spirit, becoming King, all of that was now history. So, in this case Yahowah is speaking of raising up and exalting His Chosen One from among the people at a future date and those dates would be 4000 and 6000 Yah.

For those of us who have long since come to realize that Dowd is returning to fulfill ___ acts - built a seat of honor for him, built a home and throne for him, established his kingdom forever, Dowd is coming back as brilliant as the sun as if he were God. Yahowah says that He's returning with Dowd every which way and we have long been comfortable with Dowd returning in year 6000 Yah to fulfill Kipurym. So, for somebody that might say okay, I'm good with that but I'm not good with him being here in the interim as the Passover Lamb, how is it possible you could be okay with him coming back a second time but not a third? I remind you he was anointed three times and there are three Yowbel periods in human history that bring us to this point. So, here we are. That's God's position on this.

This is the first line of the 89th Mizmowr that is extant in the scrolls found in the caves above Qumran. In the text of the 1,000-year-old Dead Sea Scrolls, (the Dead Sea Scrolls are dated to the first century BCE and the oldest Masoretic text is dated to the 11th century CE), we can use the Qumran Scrolls to discern the meaning of these words and here we find in these scrolls the plural and singular use of bachar | chosen and desired, tested and proven. As a result, based upon His previous declaration, not only was there a connection between God's deliverance and protection on Taruw'ah and the realization that Dowd was the Qadowsh | Set-Apart One of Yisra'el and our Melek | Counselor and King, but it also logically followed that God should make a corresponding revelation to those He had chosen and proven. And in this case, divine insight was how He assisted Dowd, aiding and abetting His Gibowr | Most Capable and Courageous Man. Moreover, the Bachar | Chosen One, the Gibowr, Melek, and Qadowsh were one and the same. Dowd is all these things and more pertain to him.

There's a reason that Christians, to create the myth of Jesus, had to rob Dowd of his every accolade and achievement - there are no accolades, achievements, no prophecies of any kind pertaining to Jesus. So, for Jesus to be perceived as the Son of God, Messiah and Savior, these accolades and accomplishments must be stolen from Dowd.

Since we do not find naby' in the text, it is implied that this awesomely important insight was revealed to witnesses rather than to prophets. Should this be the case, I don't think there's any argument that could be made that you are listening to the result. There is no one else that is proclaiming Yahowah's name, describing the Covenant with its five conditions and five benefits, explaining how the Mow'ed Miqra'ey enabled the benefits of the Covenant, how Dowd is the Son of God and the Messiah and will be returning, the timeline demonstrating when he was last here and when he will return on the precise date, or that is acknowledging that Dowd is the Passover Lamb. There is none that speaks of any of those things much less any others that are involved in the amplified translation of Yahowah's witness. So, the fact is we are fulfilling this prophecy. It's always comforting to know that you are doing exactly what Yahowah wants.

DEE: I had a call from a friend this week asking what more can he do because he wants to be part of Team Yada and what we're all doing. I told him just what you're saying – share Yahowah's words; that's what we need.

YADA: Correct. And because now the various social media platforms are so pervasive, there are many opportunities to do it. You are noticing just today that there's an interchange on qara ' ... what we're doing here.

DEE: Last week 250,000 people interacted with this podcast and 1,000 alone on just Twitter. People are seeing this information. Anybody can make an account and share it. Just do so appropriately within the proper requests. You can ___ and figure out what He wants you to do.

YADA: We only have three requests of those that avail themselves of this information. We offer it free. If you wish to read it and benefit from it and then share it, we ask that you come to know it and understand it before you start sharing it because you're going to be a lot more effective when you've taken the time to read enough that you transition from knowing to understanding. So, our primary requests are if you're going to use it that you do not use anything that we have written or said to promote any religious, political, or conspiratorial notion. We are and God is completely opposed to religion, politics, and conspiracy and therefore this cannot be used in association with any of those things.

Second, do not use anything that you read or hear here to perpetrate a violent act. We are about using words and we will continue using our words. We want to encourage you to use your words. Words are far more powerful than any stick or stone. So, be inspired to reach out using words even if those words are condemning religion or politics and are uplifting of Yahowah, use words and wield them wisely.

If you are going to cite this work, direct people's attention to where you heard it or read it because far too many people have taken our transliterations, for example of Yahowah's name, our analysis of what can be gleaned about Covenant participation, and they promote it as if it's their own on a site that promotes conspiracy and religion. That is totally and completely inappropriate.

In contrast to the rabbinical types, Dowd is Yahowah's Gibowr | the most Capable and Courageous of Men. He has the strength and ability to prevail in part because Yahowah supported him. Yes, Dowd was the Pesach 'Ayil and it was Dowd's soul that our guilt with him and deposited it in She'owl. However, none of that is possible without God's direct involvement and support. Like when I go back trying to edit Dowd into all of these things and most of the time when I say Yahowah fulfilled His promise to reconcile His relationship with His people and to redeem their souls there's a tendency to say Father and Son collectively did that, but the reality is that while Dowd is the most important human who ever lived and is essential to God's plan, the fact of the matter is that Dowd is still nobody without Yahowah. Yahowah remains God without Dowd, but without God Dowd is nobody. Dowd would be the first to credit Yahowah's support as the reason he was able to perform and do these things for us. It is his attitude that made it possible for Dowd to serve as the Zarowa', the Sacrificial Lamb, literally offering his life as a Bachar| mortal body to save Yisra'el.

In all reality Dowd figured out - if I suffer even at the hands of the brutal Romans on Pesach | Passover, and sacrifice that body, which is meaningless to me, that one day's torture in that regard is meaningless compared to an eternity where I will have earned the people's respect. And while there could be nothing worse for someone like Dowd than to be separated from Yahowah on Matsah or being laden with our guilt as he carried it into She'owl | Hell which is what he did depositing it there, the great celebration of being the first to fully benefit from Bikuwrym, which is the third of the Mow'ed Miqra'ey where we're adopted into God's family, is more than enough to justify doing it. But beyond all of that, by doing it Dowd becomes our Savior and earns our eternal respect for having done so.

As we have stated many times, Dowd was mighty with pen and sword. Clearly, he was not a pacifist. He was unapologetic at least towards other men. He knew right from wrong and would not tolerate any form of deception. He would be crucified in today's world for being politically incorrect and being intolerant just as he was crucified by the Romans for being incompatible with their immoral quest to abuse others.

And with Dowd as the Passover Lamb the Romans are never justified, but at least we can understand why the Romans crucified Dowd and why they would not have a reason to crucify anyone else. They were the occupiers of Judea. Dowd was the King of Judea. The one thing the Romans would never tolerate was someone who claimed, and could prove, that he had sovereignty over them in a territory they had conquered. So, Dowd gave the Romans, at least under their means to subject people and to demean them, a reason to crucify him. In doing so the Romans generated God's eternal wrath as do the Roman Catholics following them because while the body of the Pesach 'Ayil had to die to open the Doorway to Life the Pesach 'Ayil is not supposed to be tortured. It was the Romans that thought that would be fun.

DEE: A friend also called this week about this subject which is really interesting that you're broaching. The question was, did the Lamb, whatever his identity, perform miracles. I said the exact same thing you just said - I don't think so. I think that's a New Testament ...

YADA: It's interesting that if you look at the Christian New Testament there isn't any contemporaneous record of what Dowd did, nothing. In fact, it's likely that all four weren't even in the same country at the time and weren't even good hearsay witnesses. Mark, of course, was not there. Matthew wrote four generations later. Luke was nothing but an apologist for Paul. So, the only person you could say remotely might have been there when some of this took place would have been the person known today as John. But what is so odd about that is that it's apparent that he wouldn't write anything about any of this until about three generations later sometime in 60 to 70 CE and he did so, if he was the same fellow which I think is actually unlikely, many countries removed from Judea where there wouldn't be anyone who could validate what he said was true and long after memories would have faded. So, if Dowd as the Pesach 'Ayil had made great proclamations, if he had performed awesome miracles, if he actually had disciples wouldn't somebody have written down something that transpired?

One of the things that is necessary to speak for Yahowah is a contemporaneous written record. When Yahowah reveals something through a prophet like Yasha'yah, the first thing He says is get a big scroll, get a pen and write it all down, every word of this. When we study what Dowd had to say it's because he wrote it all down. Moseh not only wrote the Towrah, the first thing that Yahowsha' Ben Nun did after becoming his successor was to write it again. You cannot represent Yahowah if you're not committed to writing what you have learned and what you had revealed to you at the very time it's being revealed to you.

We spend this 90-minute show celebrating our relationship with Yahowah and participating in the Covenant with other Covenant members on a Shabat evening; however, that is not our prime objective. It's a tiny fraction of our investment of time. The investment of time is the 12 to 14-hour days, six to seven days a week, writing what we're learning as we're learning. For nothing to have been written by any of the eyewitnesses or even the participants in 33 CE says that nothing was said of importance and there were no miracles.

Now, we have to be a little careful here in that while there was no Jesus, and proof there was no Jesus, no one by that name lived or wrote anything; therefore, he would not have been consistent with God's approach, the person who fulfilled these things, Dowd, wrote extensively of exactly what he experienced and endured. It's just that he wrote about what he experienced and endured a thousand years before he did so. Read the Mizmowr. While they all speak of it, Mizmowr 22 and 88 were written in first person about his ordeal fulfilling Pesach, Matsah, and Bikuwrym. Why would Dowd write in first person about what he experienced at the hands of the Romans in being crucified on Pesach and the darkness and loneliness of fulfilling Matsah along with the celebration and brilliant light of Bikuwrym in first person if it was not himself that was doing this? So, the only person who is even possible to have been sanctioned by Yahowah to fulfill the first four Mow'ed Miqra'ey, Pesach, Matsah, Bikuwrym, and Shabuw'ah is the one person who left us with better than a contemporaneous written report of what occurred. Only one, Dowd. He wrote that report a thousand years before he fulfilled these things. But that, my friends, means there were no disciples, that the entire Christian New Testament is nothing but a god-forsaken fairy tale, or if you're a Jew, a nightmare – all of it.

“I discovered and then made known (matsa’ – I located, found, revealed, exposed, encountered, and experienced, then sought to reap the benefit by inspiring) Dowd (Dowd – the Beloved; from dowd – the one who is loved and who loves in return), My ‘Ebed | Coworker (‘ebed’ any – My authorized agent who works on My behalf; from ‘abad’ – to work).

If you have any question as to who He is talking about ...

“I discovered and then made known (matsa’ – I located, found, revealed, exposed, encountered, and experienced, then sought to reap the benefit by inspiring) Dowd (Dowd – the Beloved; from dowd – the one who is loved and who loves in return), My ‘Ebed | Coworker (‘ebed’ any – My authorized agent who works on My behalf; from ‘abad’ – to work).

What did I say about God? He cannot work alone! Yes, I understand He’s God and you would say because He’s God He can do anything. That’s not true. He can’t lie and He can’t go back on what He’s promised to do. If He told the Children of Yisra’el, which He did, that you’re right. I won’t address you directly again if it scares the living bejesus out of you. He’s not going to go back on His word. He is going to pick a co-worker. God went into Mitsraym | Egypt, the most powerful land on Earth with an eighty-year-old stuttering shepherd. He doesn’t work alone.

He's saying here that He discovered and made known Dowd His co-worker to work with Him, to fulfill all these wonderful things including the most important of all which are the Mow’ed Miqra’ey.

Out of (min – from [1QPs4]) Shemen Qodesh ‘Any | My Set-Apart Oil (shemen qodesh’ any – My separating, devoting, and preparing olive oil I have dedicated him to service), I have mashach | anointed him (mashach huw’ – I have applied the oil, dedicating him to My purpose; the actionable basis of and thus process of becoming the Mashyach | Messiah) (Mizmowr 89:20) so that, to show the way to the benefits of the relationship (‘asher – to reveal the path to walk to get the most out of life), My hand (yad ‘any – My influence and ability to act) will be established and steadfast (kuwn – will be authenticated and sustained, made ready and prepared, be unwavering and persistent) with you (‘im ‘atah – in association with you [4QPs changes him to you]).” (Mizmowr / Lyrics to Sing / Psalm 89:21 in par

So, found Dowd. Yahowah is responsible for exposing His experiences with and inspiring Dowd | matsa’. Dowd is Yahowah’s ‘ebed ‘any | authorized agent who works on His behalf.

Then God is saying here I want you to understand if you're Jewish in one of the principles of your disgusting religion, Judaism, that some unnamed Messiah is going to come and save you, that out of My Set-Apart oil I was the one who anointed him. So, why are you awaiting an unknown Messiah if I anointed him the Messiah? Why is the most popular religion in the world, Christianity, about taking a mythical misnomer “Jesus Christ” and claiming he is the Messiah when God specifically says that out of His Set-Apart oil he anointed Dowd? Then He says,

I did this to show the way to the benefits of the relationship (‘asher – to reveal the path to walk to get the most out of life), My hand (yad ‘any – My influence and ability to act) will be established and steadfast (kuwn – will be authenticated and sustained, made ready and prepared, be unwavering and persistent) with us (‘im ‘atah – in association with you [4QPs changes him to you]).” (Mizmowr / Lyrics to Sing / Psalm 89:21 in part

As a result, for our benefit. It is by the way 4QPS that changes him to you at the conclusion of 89:21.

By stating that He made Dowd known to us Yahowah’s taking credit for the accounts of his life and the copies of his Psalms that have been available for us to read these past 3,000 years. No other 11th century BCE life is as contemporaneously or voluminously documented. Yahowah created Dowd as Yahowah encouraged every one of His prophets to respond which is to create a contemporaneous and comprehensive record in writing of everything that was said and done. Dowd is the living embodiment of that practice as it relates to prophecy, therefore, we should be asking ourselves why this is so; why did God intervene in human affairs in this way, at this time, in this place, and for this man on our behalf. What is it about Dowd that established Yahowah’s hand with us forevermore? How can Yahowah’s influence on us be unwavering and persistent.

Stream ends.
